HERO MEDAL AWARDS MADE

Three Silver and Six Bronze Decorations Decided Upon.

HONOR LOCAL MEN

Three Heroes Lost Their Lives, and Their Widows Receive Medals and Money.

SUM FOR BROCKTON VICTIMS

To four living heroes and two heroines and to the widows of three heroes, who gave their lives to save others, the Carnegie hero fund commission made awards yesterday afternoon. Three silver medals were awarded and six of bronze. Two of the heroes are from Allegheny county.

In addition to the medals, the commission awarded $12,200 in money. Of this amount $10,000 goes to the relief committee organized to help the victims of the Brockton (Mass.) shoe factory disaster, while $1,700 is given to the widows of heroes and $500 to a young heroine to help her complete her education.

The awards made yesterday were the first to be decided upon by the hero fund commission. Since the establishment of the fund on April 15, 1904, to May 15, 1905, a total of 407 cases have been called to the commission's attention. Of this number 239 have been refused as not within the scope of the fund, 159 are awaiting investigation and the nine announced yesterday have been granted.

Forward Medals and Money Soon.

Allegheny county's two heroes are the late Gideon King Marshall of Springdale, whose widow receives a silver medal and $500, and Louis A. Baumann, Jr., of Penn township, who receives a bronze medal.

Immediately after the meeting yesterday President Charles L. Taylor of the commission cabled to Mr. Carnegie the action taken.

After holding two contests for the designs for suitable medals to be awarded the heroes, the commission yesterday decided to place the matter in the hands of J. H. Caldwell of Philadelphia.

The money awarded by the commission will be forwarded to those to whom it was granted in the near future. The medals will be sent just as soon as they are furnished to the commission. Of the 20 members of the commission 15 were present at the meeting yesterday. Those attending were:

Charles L. Taylor, F. M. Wilmot, Robert Pitcairn, Judge James H. Reed, Judge Joseph Buffington, C. C. Mellor, William L. Abbott, William N. Frew, W. W. Blackburn, William L. Scaife, John B. Jackson, Thomas N. Miller, Thomas Morrison, William Scott and William H. Stevenson.

Studying Many Other Cases.

Quite a number of cases are still pending for investigation. Those that are worthy will be given consideration at the next meeting of the commission.

The countries embraced in the fund are the United States, Dominion of Canada and the colony of Newfoundland, but as yet no cases have been reported to the commission from Newfoundland.

At the January meeting of the commission the resignation of Edwin H. Anderson, formerly librarian of the Carnegie library, as a member of the commission, was received and accepted. A successor to Mr. Anderson has not been chosen.

The executive committee, which is composed of Dr. W. J. Holland, chairman; Charles L. Taylor, F. M. Wilmot, W. W. Blackburn, Thomas Morrison and Robert Pitcairn, meets regularly each month for the action on such cases and other business as may be brought before it. The commission meets three times a year. The regular annual meeting is held in January and the other two meetings in May and October.

To Help Brockton Sufferers.

Directly after the Brockton, Mass., disaster of March 20, 1905, George C. Holmes, chairman of the subscription committee for the relief of the sufferers of the R. B. Grove & Co.'s fire, made an appeal to Mr. Carnegie for assistance. Upon receipt of this appeal Mr. Carnegie at once turned it over to Charles L. Taylor, president of the Carnegie hero fund commission. The Brockton disaster was caused by a boiler explosion in the Grover shoe factory. Immediately following the explosion the five-story factory took fire, causing the death of 59 employes, the serious injury of about 90 others and leaving without support 126 persons who had been dependent upon the victims of the disaster.

Mr. Taylor directed F. M. Wilmot, manager of the fund, to go to Brockton and make a personal investigation of the situation. Mr. Wilmot upon his return to Pittsburgh made a report to the president, who, in turn, made his report to the executive committee of the fund and the committee adopted the report which was passed up to the commission for final action at its meeting yesterday.

Fund May Reach $120,000.

As supplementary to Mr. Wilmot's report, and in order that the latest developments might be known by the commission before taking final action, Mr. Holmes made an additional report to the manager. This report shows that a total of over $91,000 has been received by the relief committee. With the grant of the commission, $10,000, and what may be raised in addition to the present sum by the relief committee, it is hoped that the grand total may reach over $120,000.

In connection with the Brockton horror are several individual cases of heroism which have been called to the attention of the commission. These cases have been officially taken up and are now under investigation. When these cases have been thoroughly investigated they will be turned over to the commission for final action.

The following summary of the facts upon which the two local awards were

SQUADRONS MEET; JAPAN DEFEATED

Unconfirmed Report in Manila Says Combat Took Place South of Formosa.

LINEVITCH ON OFFENSIVE

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

MANILA, May 25.—There is an unconfirmed rumor here that the Russian and Japanese fleets have met south of Formosa, and that the Japanese were defeated.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 24.—In naval circles it is now generally assumed that Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadrons are in the Pacific, steaming northward and giving the Pescadores, Formosa and the Iuchu islands a wide berth in order to minimize the danger of a concentrated torpedo attack under cover of these islands and to force Vice Admiral Togo, should he elect to accept battle, to meet him in the open.

All idea that the Russian admiral will attempt to force a passage of the Korean straits has been abandoned. Both the Perouse straits, between the islands of Hokkaido and Sakhalin, and the Tsugaru straits, between the islands of Hokkaido and Hondo, were reconnoitered by Admiral Rojestvensky before he left the coast of French Indo-China.

LONDON, May 25.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says Lieut.-Gen. Linevitch has demanded the recall of Gen. Kuropatkin.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 24.—The news from the front continues to point to the proximity of fighting on a large scale. Lieut.-Gen. Linevitch sent Lieut.-Gen. Rennenkampff's Cossacks on a daring expedition around Field Marshal Oyama's left. Rennenkampff succeeded in penetrating to the rear of the Japanese, but paid dearly, his Cossacks being badly cut up.

Gen. Linevitch apparently is trying to take the offensive out of Field Marshal Oyama's hands. The latter has made all preparations against the possible interruption of his communications and the cessation of the transport service from Japanese ports. All reinforcements available and immense quantities of provisions and munitions of war have been landed at Yenkow and Dalny since Vice Admiral Rojestvensky appeared in the straits of Malacca.

Newspaper correspondents at the front are prevented by the censor from telegraphing any intelligent view of the situation, and this has always been the precursor of important developments. Gen. Linevitch has taken far greater precautions that did Gen. Kuropatkin to prevent his plans leaking out.

Advices received from Harbin say that both the railroad and the telegraph lines to Vladivostok are working, therefore the fortress is not isolated, as reported.

WANT CHANGE TO FORGET PARKER WAS CANDIDATE

Charles P. Salen Makes Unique Statement Before Ohio Democratic Committee.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—The Democratic state central committee today fixed Columbus as the place and June 27 and 28 as the dates for the state convention and chose M. A. Daugherty of Lancaster temporary chairman and P. A. Berry of Mt. Vernon secretary.

It was voted 15 to 6 to make the vote for Parker the basis for the apportionments of 861 delegates.

The selection of Parker's vote was opposed by Charles P. Salen of Cleveland, who said he wanted the Democrats of Ohio to have a "chance to forget that Parker ever ran for the presidency."

BOMB KILLS ONE PERSON AND FIVE ARE WOUNDED

Russian Interior Minister Forbids Discussion of Public Questions by Zemstvos and Other Organizations.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BAKU, CAUCASIA, May 24.—Prince Nakachidza, the governor of Baku, was assassinated today by a bomb which was thrown at his carriage. A lieutenant, who was accompanying him, and a bystander were also killed, and the coachman is believed to have been fatally hurt.

WARSAW, RUSSIAN POLAND, May 24.—The chief of police of Siedlee was sitting on the verandah of a club at midnight when an unknown man hurled a bomb at him. The missile exploded near enough to the chief for fragments to injure him seriously. Three other persons were also injured. The man who threw the bomb escaped.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 24.—Minister of the Interior Bouligin has issued a circular declaring that discussion by zemstvos, doumas and other organizations do not come within the scope of the imperial ukase issued March 3, granting the people freedom to petition the emperor through the committee of ministers on all matters relating to their general welfare and has forbidden them. The ruling in effect is that this privilege only applies to the people as individuals and that organized institutions must confine themselves to questions within their competency.

JUSTICE DEAN VERY ILL.

Physician from Philadelphia Visits Him and Holds Out No Hope for Recovery.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, May 24.—The Hon. John Dean, associate justice of the Pennsylvania supreme court, is seriously ill at his home in this place.

Ten days ago Justice Dean suffered a slight stroke of paralysis which affected his right arm. Since then he contracted a cold which developed into pneumonia. Dr. S. C. Cohen, who was the judge's physician in Philadelphia, was brought to Hollidaysburg on a special train this afternoon to see his patient, but could afford no relief nor extend any hope for his recovery. Judge Dean is 71 years old.

STRIKERS TIE UP LUMBER BUSINESS

Teamsters' Fight Spreads Rapidly and Mayor Dunne Calls for 1,000 Special Police.

SHEA MAY BE SENT TO JAIL

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 24.—Final rejection of union teamsters' demands, especially those of the express drivers, was officially announced today by the employers, thus annulling any present settlement of the teamsters' strike. The employers demand unconditional surrender. Goods were sent all over the city today under police protection without encountering violence.

The strike in the lumber yards spread with great rapidity, and nearly all lumber business is at a standstill. Planing mills and sash and door factories were compelled to shorten operations today, and by Friday will be compelled to close entirely.

Mayor Dunne tonight issued a call for 1,000 extra policemen. This will be the second 1,000 of extra policemen sworn in since the beginning of the strike. Sheriff Barrett today swore in several hundred deputies, the largest number at any one time since the strike began.

President C. P. Shea of the Teamsters' union; James B. Barry, business agent of the Express Drivers' union; Bernard Mulligan, president of the Express Drivers' union, and John H. Donahue, a member of the Express Drivers' union, will appear before Judge Kohlsaat tomorrow morning. Attorney Mayer, acting for the Employers' association, will ask that the men be sent to jail on a charge of contempt of court in refusing to answer questions before Master in Chancery Sherman, which questions they had previously been ordered to answer by the court.

Members of the executive board of the Teamsters' International union appointed Edwin Gould of San Francisco to be the active strike director in case the United States court sends President Shea to jail. Gould is the first vice president of the International union.

United States deputy marshals today commenced serving notices on 60 teamsters who have been cited for contempt of court in violating injunctions of Judge Kohlsaat prohibiting them from interfering with the wagons of seven express companies.

Secretary E. E. Hopper of the Associated Wood Industries declared today not one of the lumber teamsters who struck will ever be re-employed by the lumber dealers.

Extra fire protection for the lumber district was provided by Fire Marshal Campion late this afternoon.

COMMISSIONER J. C. MERCER LYING AT POINT OF DEATH

J. Carson Mercer, senior commissioner of Allegheny county, was lying at the point of death at midnight at his residence, 825 Heath street. Mr. Mercer has been ill for several months from a complication of diseases, and no hope of his recovery is entertained.

ASSEMBLY FOR HARLAN IDEA

Will Name Committee to Consider Establishing Central Church.

MILLIONS FOR AGED

Presbyterian Delegates Indorse Collecting Great Fund to Support Old Ministers.

PITTSBURGH PREACHERS TALK

Special Telegram From The Rev. S. S. Gilson, Staff Correspondent.

WINONA LAKE, IND., May 24.—After very earnest discussion on three different occasions, almost unanimous action was taken today in the Presbyterian general assembly on Justice John M. Harlan's "plan for establishing a church large enough and sufficiently endowed to enable it, in the name of our common Presbyterianism, to do a full share of the work of influencing the life of the nation at its governmental center." A committee of three ministers and three elders is to be appointed to advise with the presbytery of Washington City, and if that presbytery approves the plan, report to the next assembly "more clearly and develope more fully what is desired."

A motion simply to refer the business to the presbytery was tabled. The action taken was approved by Justice Harlan and the commissioners from Washington City. Ex-Moderator Henry C. Minton and the Rev. Dr. Henry M. McCracken will be members of the committee to visit the capital, when Washington presbytery takes up the matter next October.

Fund for Aged Ministers.

In his address Justice Harlan expressed his opposition to a cathedral, as it "means an ecclesiastical boss," and to "forms and ceremonies." His sentiments were loudly applauded, and were understood to indicate the antagonism to the matter of a ritual, which is to come before the assembly Friday. There was prolonged applause over the announcement that the Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly had declared the basis of union constitutionally adopted.

The assembly today indorsed the collection of a permanent fund of $10,000,000, the income from which is to be expended in annuities for aged preachers of the Presbyterian church. The committee on sustenance was commissioned to undertake the work of establishing this fund.

The Rev. Van Clay Loea of Pittsburgh made a speech advocating enlarged work among the foreigners. The Rev. George S. Schibrede pleaded for Presbyterian literature to be used in the communities around his church in Pittsburgh. Announcement was made that the Presbyterian church will not raise the question of "tainted money."

The annual discussion on temperance is also to come up Friday.

Speeches were limited and the assembly is becoming impatient to adjourn. The committee on the next place of meeting has united on Columbus, O. Over 100 commissioners have been granted permission to leave the assembly Friday evening.

Effect a Compromise.

The assembly would not commit itself to the plan of federation of Presbyterian churches, but simply ordered it to be printed. It was announced that the board of publication would compromise with the Western Pennsylvania presbyteries which are withholding their contributions in order to publish their own literature for distribution among the foreigners.

The report of the board of foreign missions showed expenditures for work in Africa, China, India, Japan, Korea, Mexico, Persia, the Philippines, Siam, Lagos, South America and Syria. The receipts for the year ending in April were $1,184,778; disbursements, $1,188,420. The total receipts from churches, ladies' auxiliaries, young people's societies, gifts and legacies were $128,123. From 1870 to 1904 inclusive, the board has received from the woman's board and the various societies, $7,695,661. The report asked for $1,500,000 for foreign mission work next year. A new church in Korea was recommended. The recommendations in the report were adopted.

A camp fire of 75 old soldiers was held this afternoon when addresses were made by Col. John M. Harlan, Col. A. E. Ketchum and many others. Rev. Dr. Henry Vandyke of Princeton arrived today to present his report on "forms and ceremonies."

COURT OUSTS WEAVER MEN

Organization Scores in Second Day of Gas Lease Fight.

OLD DIRECTORS IN

Writ of Injunction Restrains Mayor from Declaring Offices Vacant and Filling Them.

DAY HAS ITS HUMOROUS SIDE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Trust Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 24.

In the gas lease controversy the organization scored a touchdown today. Mayor Weaver got first blood yesterday by his removal of Directors Smyth and Costello. This morning the mayor's appointees took the oath of office, assumed charge of their respective departments and then the organization made its first decisive play.

Judge Ralston of common pleas court No. 3 granted a writ enjoining Col. Sheldon Potter, the new director of public safety, and A. Lincoln Acker, the new director of public works, from taking charge of the departments to which they had been assigned. The writ not only enjoined, but was also an ouster and nullified the appointments. It fixed Monday as the date of hearing, and restored to official activity, until that time, Directors Smyth and Costello.

Late this afternoon Judge Gordon, counsel for Mayor Weaver, prepared an application to the supreme court for a writ of supersedeas. The court had adjourned for the term, and will not be in regular session until June 22, but if either of the justices act on the appeal, which has not yet been filed, the matter will be considered by the full bench and removed from the jurisdiction of the common pleas court.

Durham is Confident.

The issue now is wholly one of politics. The lines are sharply and clearly defined. Israel W. Durham, leader of the Republican organization, today informed his friends and political lieutenants that they were facing the issue raised when the late Senator M. S. Quay and his political colleagues decided John Wanamaker should not become a member of the United States senate. Mr. Durham also expressed the belief that the fight would be won by the organization and that it would be won more easily than any of the battles which followed the political secession of Mr. Wanamaker.

The organization asserts it is certain of victory, that it will not only override Mayor Weaver's veto, but is also fully equal to the task of suppressing the incipient rebellion which followed the passage of the ordinance extending the gas lease. So far as Mr. Durham's information extends, there have been no defections in the ranks of the organization, and Mr. Durham was today in touch with every ward leader and every member of councils.

The friends of Mayor Weaver claim they have made inroads on the organization. They assert that Councilman Hallowell of the Twenty-fourth ward and Councilman Dykes of the Thirty-eighth ward have decided to support Weaver's veto. Probably this is true, but it has no material bearing on the general result.

City Hall Furnished Comedy.

There was something grotesque in the installation of the new directors and the suddenness with which they were deprived of power. Mayor Weaver personally introduced to the department of public safety its new director, Col. Sheldon Potter. The colonel was extremely courteous in his greetings to his subordinates. He had a pleasant chat with Alexander Colville, the assistant director, a long talk with Donaghy, chief of the detective bureau, and later met all of the police lieutenants, favoring them with an inaugural address, in which he informed the officers that so long as they attended strictly to their official duties they need not expect interruption from their superiors.

Then the colonel returned to the private office of the department. He opened the official mail, observing with much care letters of a personal nature, addressed to Director Smyth. Many of these letters were from friends of the latter, deploring his dismissal and pledging support in the coming legal battle. Col. Potter made no comment. He had a long visit with Judge Gordon and received many personal friends who called to extend congratulations.

Ouster Makes Appearance.

Then came the unexpected. An officer of Judge Ralston's court presented the writ of ouster. Col. Potter recognized the authority of the writ. He is a lawyer and realized it must be obeyed or he would be in contempt of court. With the remark: "I always obey the mandate of the court," Col. Potter said an revoir to Secretary Thomas Flynn and walked out of his new position, with which he had hardly had time to become acquainted.

A. Lincoln Acker, director of the department of public works, did not give the instant recognition to Judge Ralston's order which Col. Potter gave. He continued to hold down the department chair, and when Director Costello, accompanied by his lawyer, Francis Shunk Brown, appeared, Mr. Acker informed them he proposed to hold the fort. He said he had been advised by his lawyer Judge Gordon, to not recognize the injunction.

"All right," said Mr. Brown, "you are in contempt of court, and the court will deal with you."

Costello and his attorney left the office at once. Mr. Acker remained for a half hour and then disappeared. Probably he received new instructions. Shortly after his departure Mr. Costello returned and resumed charge of the department. It is probable Costello and Smyth will serve until the question is judicially determined.

Admits No Vacancy.

Judge Ralston's order is radical in character. It does not admit a vacancy exists, or that there has been an official interregnum. In brief, it holds that the old directors have been constantly in office and will exercise their duties until the court passes on the legality of their removal and the validity of the appointment of their successors.

This turn in the situation today raised the hopes of the organization and depressed the revolutionists. Mayor Weaver felt his hands were tied. He had scored first blood yesterday, but he was powerless to move further in his program. It was his intention today, with the assistance of the new directors, to sweep out of office hundreds of men who are counted as followers of Durham. He had served notice on ward leaders and councilmen that unless they sustained this course they and their friends could expect no quarter.

For a civil service reformer, in theory at least, Weaver had made more threats than any man who has ever held the office of mayor in Philadelphia. Possibly his policy of intimidation may become a matter of court record before the fight goes much further.

When Weaver heard of Judge Ralston's injunction he sent for Judge Gordon. Later ex-District Attorney George S. Graham was sent for and the three boarded an afternoon train for New York to secure the advice of ex-Secretary of War Elihu Root, who was retained by the "Committee of Seventy."

Sparring for Time.

Unless the supreme court intervenes there will be no legal action until next Monday. The organization is sparring for time. It realizes that eventually Mayor Weaver will succeed in building a cabinet to his liking, but it is anxious to close out the gas matter before he accomplishes this. With the gas contract off its hands the organization is ready and anxious to force the political issue. It is confident that it can repel all assaults on these lines, relying upon the fact that it has always defeated the Wanamaker forces in the past.

The short incumbence of Messrs. Potter and Acker had a further humorous side. All morning a stream of visitors had been calling on the new directors to congratulate them. After the new directors went out and the old officials went in visitors were still arriving. One citizen not acquainted with the new or old directors came to the office of the director of public safety to congratulate Mr. Potter. He was about to shake hands with Mr. Smyth when he was told of the quick change that had taken place. He stuck his hand in his pocket and quickly walked out.

The "committee of nine" today arranged for a mass meeting in the Academy of Music Friday night. Among the speakers will be former Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith and Bishop Coadjutor Mackay-Smith, of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Pennsylvania. Col. Sheldon Potter, who is a member of the committee of nine, resigned on account of his having been appointed director of the department of public safety.

Root Plans a Campaign.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Mayor John Weaver of Philadelphia came to New York this afternoon especially to consult with Elihu Root about his fight with the Philadelphia Republican organization on the gas situation. He returned tonight with a well-defined plan as outlined by the former secretary of war, to be carried out in the crusade against the gas monopoly. The mayor was accompanied by his counsel, ex-Judge Gordon, and former District Attorney George S. Graham.

Before going into the conference Mayor Weaver admitted his purpose in coming to New York was to consult with Mr. Root about the ouster which had been secured from the court depriving his new appointees of offices. Asked what he was going to do about the matter, the mayor said he was in the fight to stay and he had no doubt that he would win in the end.

"The people's representatives must be taught," he added, "to obey the people and not to command them."

After the conference Mr. Root said:

"We have decided on a plan of campaign which we hope to push to a successful finish. That is all I may say just now."

Mr. Root added he would be in Philadelphia next Monday, when the legal status of the new appointees of Mayor Weaver, who were ousted by the court order today, will be argued for final determination. Mayor Weaver and Judge Gordon left on the 8:40 train for Philadelphia.

GUFFEY'S ORDERS ARE CARRIED OUT

Mr. Head the Only Democratic Nominee for Judge—Berry Named for Treasurer.

FUSION SCHEME IS HATCHED

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
Walter J. Christy, Staff Correspondent.

HARRISBURG, May 24.—Obedient to the leadership of Col. J. M. Guffey, the Democratic state convention today carried out his program to the letter. He said that John Benedict Head of Greensburg should be named for superior court justice and William H. Berry of Chester nominated for state treasurer. A large majority of the delegates saw to it that no other names were written on the slate.

The one fight of the convention came over the question of whether one or three candidates would be nominated for superior court justice. Col. Guffey stood for one nomination and so did 210 of the 314 delegates. Therefore, eight men entered the running. When Philadelphia was reached on the second ballot her 50 votes were swung from John A. Ward to John B. Head, and the contest was at an end. Later the nomination was made unanimous. Mr. Berry was chosen by acclamation for state treasurer after most of the delegates had left the hall.

The platform is made up of a series of planks alleged to represent state issues. For the most part it has to deal with the work of the last legislature. The aid of the Democratic state organization is offered to Philadelphia to "aid in its redemption," and an offer of fusion is made.

Gordon Takes a Trick.

In this the friends of Col. Guffey are playing into the hands of former Judge James Gay Gordon, who is scheming to secure a fusion nomination for governor next year. He has taken over Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia and will in due time turn his attention to an attempt to get control of Col. Guffey's Democratic machine. By some it is believed that Gordon will try to make capital out of the refusal of Col. Guffey to allow the nomination of three candidates, and will endeavor to induce those who today favored the three-candidate plan to step into the Gordon political spider web. Gordon is a smooth operator and he is backed by the Wanamaker millions.

Aside from the brief fight over the three-candidate plan, the convention was uninteresting. There was not a contested seat and the typewritten program was closely followed. Even John F. Short of Clearfield had a resolution put through shutting off all debate on resolutions until after they had been acted upon by the machine-made committee. It was a well bossed job.

John G. Harman of Columbia, the temporary chairman, and J. Thompson Baker of Union, the permanent chairman, made lengthy speeches, but their flights of oratory elicited little applause from the several hundred men in the galleries.

Reserved Cheers for Mr. Head.

The stage was taken up by friends of Mr. Head and they reserved their cheers for their favorite. When James S. Moorhead in a masterly speech presented the name of his law partner, friend and neighbor for the office of superior court justice, the men from Westmoreland cut loose. Ex-Sheriff Lucien Clawson rushed to the front of the stage and held aloft a likeness of the nominee. This was a signal for the great ovation which followed. Capt. John B. Keenan and ex-Sheriff P. F. McCann had large Head badges printed and freely circulated among the spectators and delegates. They were thoughtful to use green, yellow and white ribbon so that all tastes could be gratified.

There was a fight in the resolutions committee over the question of whether one or three candidates for superior court justices would be nominated. The advocates of one candidate won a victory by a vote of 29 to 12. The trouble was renewed in the convention when Chairman W. J. Brennen offered the resolution declaring for one nominee.

Chairman Baker called for a vote of the convention on the adoption of the resolution. The galleries participated and the nays seemed to be in the majority. Just where the gallery men who voted "no" came from is a mystery, as most of the spectators here came from Allegheny, Westmoreland and Philadelphia, three counties favorable to one nomination.

Brennen Carried the Day.

Chairman Baker declared the vote carried, but the convention would not stand for this ruling and the opponents asked for an opportunity to be heard.

J. J. Walsh of Northumberland made the first speech for three nominations. He was followed by Harry Grim of Bucks, a brother of Senator Webster Grim, one of the candidates.

"I am not for this lay-down policy," said Grim. "You might as well take the Democratic sword over to Capt. Boies Penrose. Where is our unterrified Democracy? If you intend to scuttle the ship before a shot is fired, woe be it to every man on board."

Mr. Brennen said: "A great deal of fuss is being made about the nomination of three candidates. By experience at home and in other Western Pennsylvania counties, I have noticed that where more than one nomination is made for an office dissension and dissatisfaction is produced within the party ranks. One truth like this is worth more than 1,000 theories of what may happen."

The roll was then called on the resolution and it was adopted by a vote of 210 to 102. The Western Pennsylvania counties voting for one nomination were: Allegheny, Beaver, Cambria, Cameron, Clarion, Clearfield, Center, Crawford, Elk, Erie, Fayette, Forrest, Fulton, Greene, Indiana, Jefferson, Lawrence, McKean, Mercer, Somerset, Venango, Warren, Washington and Westmoreland. The western counties voting for three nominations were: Armstrong, Bedford, Blair and Butler.

Smith May Bolt the Ticket.

When the nominations for superior court justice were called for, Adams county yielded to Westmoreland and Mr. Moorhead named Mr. Head. The others were presented as follows: Judge Calvin Rayburn by W. H. Clarke of Armstrong; R. W. Irwin by C. E. Gibson of Washington; Senator Arthur G. Dewalt by Marcus Kline of Lehigh; Senator Webster Grim by Harry J. Shallenberg of Bucks; Representative R. Scott Ammerman of Montour by Representative Creasy of Columbia; O. B. Dickinson by John E. McDonough of Delaware, and John A. Ward by W. A. Carr of Philadelphia.

The name of Judge Peter P. Smith of Scranton, the present minority member of the superior court, was not presented. The friends of Judge Smith were hopeful the convention would make three nominations. When the scheme failed, it was decided that Judge Smith's name should not be entered in the contest. There is talk of his being an independent candidate.

On the first ballot the vote stood: Head 102, Rayburn 9, Irwin 19, Dewalt 49, Grim 24, Ammerman 46, Dickinson 7 and Ward 55. The counties supporting Mr. Head were: Adams, Allegheny, Blair, Cambria, Cameron, Carbon, Center (1 vote), Clarion, Clearfield, Crawford, Cumberland, Dauphin (3 votes), Elk, Erie, Forest, Franklin (2 votes), Fulton, Huntingdon, Indiana, Lackawanna (3 votes), Lancaster (2 votes), Luzerne (4 votes), McKean, Mercer, Perry (1 vote), Schuylkill (3 votes), Snyder, Sullivan, Union, Venango, Warren, Westmoreland and York (7 votes).

Judge Rayburn received the votes of these counties: Armstrong, Butler, Bedford, Jefferson and Juniata. Mr. Irwin received his support as follows: Beaver, Fayette, Greene, Lawrence, Somerset, Washington and one vote from York.

Philadelphia Settles Contest.

On the second ballot the first gain for Head came when Berks changed her 15 votes from Dewalt to Head. There were other small changes and when Philadelphia turned her 50 votes over to the Greenbacker he had over 150, and it required but 158 to nominate. Soon afterward a motion was put through to make the nomination unanimous.

John B. Fite of Delaware named Mayor William H. Berry of Chester for state treasurer. The candidate was nominated by acclamation. Berry is said to be a Prohibitionist. The convention adopted resolutions on the deaths of former Gov. R. E. Pattison of Philadelphia and J. Marsh Wright of Allentown.

An amendment was made to the rules giving the state executive committee power to break all deadlocks occurring in judicial, legislative or congressional district nominating conventions. Committees to notify the candidates were ordered appointed and the state committee was given power to fill any vacancy occurring on the ticket.

Allegheny county was given much prominence in the convention. In addition to Col. Guffey, as director general W. J. Brennen was chairman of the committee on resolutions and Henry Meyer presided over the committee on permanent organization. Nicholas A. Bendel was sergeant-at-arms of the convention.

John Benedict Head was born and brought up in Latrobe. He was educated in the common schools and at Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmittsburg, Md., from which he was graduated with high honors in 1873. He was admitted to the practice of law in 1880 and shortly afterward formed a partnership with James S. Moorhead of Greensburg. He is well equipped for the position to which he will be elected in November. It has long been Mr. Head's ambition to go on the bench when 50 years of age, and as a jurist round out his career. He celebrated his 50th birthday a short time ago.

Mr. Berry is a boiler manufacturer at Chester. He is said to lean toward the Prohibition party, but was a Bryan man in both campaigns. Mr. Berry was elected mayor of Chester on a reform ticket last February. He is credited with being worth $1,000,000, and payers of freight are always welcomed by the Democracy.

Offers Aid to the People.

The platform offers aid to Philadelphia in straightening out its political tangle and tenders to the people the power of the Democracy to overthrow the Republican party in the state. It says the last session of the legislature was worse than all its predecessors and deplores as extravagant the appropriations made by that body. It says salaries were increased and needless offices were created by the legislature.

A personal registration law is demanded and support is pledged to a new legislative apportionment. The platform closes with the following promise:

We pledge our candidates for state treasurer to reform the abuses of the treasury, particularly the distribution of surplus in favorite banks, and we favor the passage of legislation to retain this unnecessary accumulation of public money to the people, that local taxation may be reduced.

MORTON AND SHONTS GUESTS IN CHICAGO

Former Eulogizes the President, Latter Explains Purchase of Panama Supplies.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, May 24.—Paul Morton, secretary of the navy, and Theodore P. Shonts, chairman of the Panama canal commission, were the guests of the Chicago Bankers' club at a banquet tonight.

Just as Secretary Morton had taken the floor to speak, Graeme Stewart, formerly committeeman of the Republican party in Illinois, sank forward in his chair unconscious. Physicians who were present worked over him several minutes before they were able to restore him to consciousness. He was afterward taken home much improved. His illness was an acute attack of indigestion, coupled with a slight congestion of the brain.

Secretary Morton, in responding to the toast, "The President," said:

"He is, taken in all, one of the most remarkable of all the great men who have occupied the White House. As earnest in his love of country as Washington, as far-seeing as Jefferson, as courageous as Jackson and as much opposed to human slavery in all forms as Abraham Lincoln, he stands robust in his integrity and sturdy in his determination that there shall be a 'square deal' all around."

Mr. Shonts said: "Congress, for some reason unknown to us, although twice asked to declare its wishes, failed to limit the purchase of materials and supplies entering into the construction of the canal to American markets. Whatever be reason, in the absence of instructions from congress, the commission feels it to be its duty to make its purchases in whatever markets of the world it can buy the cheapest. This policy it is pursuing; and, inasmuch as it is getting the great mass of its supplies in American markets the inference is plain, that, notwithstanding our protective laws and notwithstanding our high wages to labor, the American markets are in the main the cheapest markets in the world."

DEBATE DIVORCE RESOLUTION.

Unitarian Delegates Consider Instructions to Ministers, but Take No Action.

BOSTON, MASS., May 24.—A resolution which was presented at the conference of the Unitarian church of America yesterday came up for discussion today. This declared that "in the interest of Christian comity ministers should exercise the utmost prudence in marrying divorced persons, whose marriage is forbidden by the laws of any church in which either party holds membership, and that ministers should, in any event, decline to marry divorced persons until a period of a year had elapsed since the decision allowing divorce."

The business committee reported against the resolution today on the ground that the question would be more properly discussed by a ministerial body than by a delegated assembly. No action was taken.

The committee to nominate officers recommended the re-election of the Rev. Samuel A. Eliot as president; the Rev. Charles E. St. John as secretary, and Francis H. Lincoln as treasurer.

COMPROMISE ON GIFT.

Conference of Congregational Churches Meets John D. Rockefeller's Donation Half Way.

PEACEDALE, R. I., May 24.—Following a debate yesterday on the gift by John D. Rockefeller of $100,000 to the American board of foreign missions, the state conference of Congregational churches today considered a third resolution bearing on the subject. This resolution was presented by a committee as a compromise and was held to be a milder expression than the two presented yesterday. After a discussion this forenoon, however, the convention refused to adopt the compromise, and the entire matter was again referred to the committee.

The committee declined to make any changes in the resolution. It was again laid before the conference, and adopted 17 to 13, a half-dozen delegates declining to vote.

Kieth were elected to the board.

BRYAN INDIGNANT AT INTERROGATOR

Replies With Warmth to Questions Concerning Accounting in Bennett Estate.

HE WILL FULFIL HIS TRUST

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., May 24.—William Jennings Bryan was the center of a somewhat dramatic hearing in the probate court today on the acceptance of his preliminary report as executor of the estate of his friend, Philo S. Bennett of New Haven and New York.

Oliver S. White, counsel for the executor, was being questioned by former Judge Henry Stoddard, counsel for Mrs. Grace Imogen Bennett, widow of the testator. Mr. Bryan several times interrupted the questioning to make suggestions. Mr. Stoddard remarked that Mr. Bryan's counsel had seen fit for some reason not to place him on the stand, but had put counsel there, and remarked that he should very much prefer that Mr. Bryan be subjected to examination instead.

Mr. Bryan's face flushed and he jumped to his feet, exclaiming: "Your honor, for 18 months I have been subjected to insinuations of this character by Mr. Stoddard, and I am tired of it. I want to say to you that I am willing to go on the stand and be sworn now, and that I want to testify."

It was soon arranged between Mr. Bryan and his counsel that he should take the place of Mr. White, and for the remainder of the day he was the subject of sharp cross-questioning by Mr. Stoddard. Mr. Bryan answered all the questions as frankly and fully as he could, but repeatedly admitted that he could not give the exact information demanded, not being a business man.

Judge Stoddard took up the item of $2,500 for Mr. Bryan's own services. Said he: "Mr. Bryan, what did you charge $2,500 for?"

"For usual and extraordinary services as executor," replied Mr. Bryan.

"What were the usual and what were the extraordinary services?"

"The usual services were those performed as executor, and the extraordinary services were those in contesting the attempt to remove the executor and in defence against the attacks upon the will itself. I have allowed the attorneys to put into the account what they thought to be a fair charge for my services. I intend to use a part of that money to carry out the desire of Mr. Bennett for which he set apart certain trust funds. The inheritance taxes have reduced the trust funds, and I shall use about $1,900 to make up the deficiency."

The wish of Mr. Bennett was that prizes be given in about 40 colleges for excellence in essays on the topic "Free Principles of Government," and the money for the prizes was provided for in the will.

Smith reported presenting the national reform movement to three bodies of the Christian and Free Baptist churches, which favorably received it. The Rev. J. Sanderson secured favorable action on the same at the recent Christian convention at Baltimore, Md. The Rev. F. M. Wilson reported a decided growth of national reform sentiment.

A mission conference was also held composed of the board of missions and representatives of all the presbyteries of the Reformed Presbyterian church. G. A. Edgar was elected chairman and R. C. Reed secretary. Thirty-five congregations asked aid for the coming year, the amount asked being $8,655.

PROTEST AGAINST UNION.

Opposition to Absorption by General Presbyterian Assembly Is Filed in Cumberland Meeting.

FRESNO, CAL., May 24.—The protest of the anti-unionists was filed at the afternoon session of the Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly. It declared that the revision of the Westminster confession was not a revision and that there is no doctrinal agreement between the two bodies. It affirmed that none of the steps taken had been constitutional; that there is no authority for the proposed union, and that the plan proposed means simply the absorption of the Cumberland church into the larger body. It also says that the Presbyterian church has not complied strictly with the agreement to change its form of government, and is not a unit in desiring union.

Decatur, Ill., was selected as the next place of meeting.

HERO AWARDS ARE MADE

made, was given out by Manager F. M. Wilmot:

The Heroism of Marshall.

On May 25, 1901, about 8:00 a. m., Arthur Truby, aged 23, a laborer, while engaged in digging a well on the property of Thomas D. Mellon, in Springdale, Allegheny county, Pa., was suddenly taken sick, as was afterward determined as the result of inhaling gas, the presence of which in the bottom of the well was not known at the time he began work. The first intimation those on the surface of the ground had that anything was wrong with Truby was when groans were heard issuing from the well. The contractor on the work called to Fernand Pilette, aged 32, a glassworker, who ran to the well, which was 32 feet deep, offered to go down and send Truby out in the bucket, and was lowered to the bottom. Before he had a chance to ascertain what was wrong with Truby, Pilette was suddenly overcome by gas and fell unconscious. Gideon Eling Marshall, a carpenter, aged 39, upon the second call of the contractor for assistance, when Truby and Pilette were overcome by gas, responded, and leaving the bucket when he was running, grabbed hold of the rope leading to the bottom of the well and slid down. When he had descended about 12 feet he was apparently overcome by gas, lost his hold of the rope and fell to the bottom. By this time quite a crowd had been attracted to the scene of the accident and precautions were taken to ventilate the well and to provide the other rescuers, Earl Snoop and Orr Shoop, who went down in the well, with safety appliances, so they could be pulled out in case they were overcome also. In this manner the bodies of Truby and Pilette were removed, as was also Marshall's, in whose body it was found life was extinct. Marshall left a widow, Sarah A., aged 41, and three children, a son aged 18 and two daughters, aged 7 and 8. Mr. Marshall left a very small estate.

The commission awarded Mrs. Marshall a silver medal and a sum of $500 to be applied to the liquidation of a mortgage on her home.

Louis A. Baumann, Jr., Saved a Boy.

On July 17, 1904, about 2:30 p. m., Louis A. Baumann, Jr., aged 17, a farmer, and Charles Stevick, aged 16, a farm laborer, both of Rodi postoffice, Penn township, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, together with eight other boys about the same age, went to what is known as Sulphur pond, near Rodi, for a swim. This pond is about 500 feet long, from 60 to 75 feet wide at the widest point, and varies in depth from one to 15 feet. All the boys entered the water, with the exception of Charles Stevick. After a while Stevick went in, the other boys by this time being out of the water and sitting on the bank. Stevick then left the water from a springboard, intending when he came up in swim to the far bank. When he rose to the surface, however, he shouted for help and sank. All the members of the party seemed panic-stricken, with the exception of Louis A. Baumann, Jr., who at once stepped on the springboard and dived for Stevick. When Baumann reached him Stevick caught him by the leg. Baumann freed himself and swam to the bank, recovered his wind, and after doing so went for Stevick again, this time catching him under the arms from the rear. He succeeded in bringing him to the surface, but Stevick threw his arms back and caught hold of Baumann about the waist, and both sank. Baumann, after a struggle, extricated himself from Stevick's grasp and again swam to shore. He entered the water a third time in his work of rescue, dived for Stevick, caught hold of his hand, dragged him under the water along the bottom of the pond, until he was able to stand on his feet with his head out of water. By this time the other boys had recovered their senses somewhat, and, taking hold of each others' hands, formed a chain and dragged Baumann and Stevick from the water. Stevick was unconscious and it required fully 10 minutes to resuscitate him. Baumann was almost exhausted, but soon recovered and suffered no disability as the result of his act. The water at the point where the accident occurred was between eight and ten feet deep.

The commission awarded Baumann a bronze medal.

Methods Used to Investigate.

In its method of investigating cases the Carnegie hero fund commission differs materially from any organization of a similar nature. Cases called to the attention of the Royal Canadian Humane association and the Royal Humane society of Great Britain are investigated only by correspondence. Affidavits must accompany blanks sent out by these organizations in order that the cases may be fully considered.

When a case is first called to the attention of the Carnegie hero fund commission it is first taken up by the manager and investigated as thoroughly as possible by correspondence. From the answers to questions on a blank from the manager is able to tell if the case comes within the scope of the fund as outlined by Mr. Carnegie. If, after a complete correspondence investigation, the case is found to be worthy it is turned over to a special agent for investigation. The scene of the accident is always visited and the facts, as related, must all be proven.

The special agent's reports are forwarded to the manager, who again examines the case. He then makes his recommendation to the executive committee. This committee takes up the case and considers it from every standpoint. The committee in turn makes its recommendation to the commission, which body has the final action in all cases.

Many cases have been reported to the commission where lives have been saved, but where no extraordinary risk was apparent on the part of the rescuer. In order to come within the scope of the fund voluntary risking of life must be clearly shown in all cases. Many worthy and commendable cases have been called to the attention of the commission and negatively acted upon on account of having occurred before the establishment of the fund, April 15, 1904. Thus far over 50 per cent of the cases reported have been before the time specified. Other cases have been refused because they were simply of a begging character.

On account of the Carnegie hero fund commission being of a national character the general public should call the attention of the commission to worthy cases. All communications must be bonafide and will be held strictly confidential. When cases are completed the manager at once notifies the party reporting the case and also the person most concerned as to its disposition. Prompt reports in all cases are greatly desired.

GRAND JURY A GENERAL "FISHING EXPEDITION"

Elihu Root Makes Defense for Edwin F. Hale in the American Tobacco Case.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 24.—Elihu Root and Delancey Nicoll appeared before Judge Wallace in the United States circuit court today and argued in behalf of Edwin F. Hale, who petitioned for a writ of habeas corpus, after he had been fined for contempt of court in refusing to answer questions before the federal grand jury in the investigation of the American Tobacco Company's affairs. They contended that such investigation was illegal; that a specific charge against a specific person was necessary to make it proper; that it transgressed the constitutional right of personal privacy, and that the immunity provision of the Sherman anti-trust law did not apply to the case of Mr. Hale.

Mr. Root declared that the grand jury in this instance had undertaken police, and not judicial proceedings; that the grand jury has assumed the powers of an executive committee and that in calling upon Hale to testify an effort was put forth to take from Hale his constitutional rights.

Mr. Root characterized the investigation being made by the grand jury as "A general fishing expedition."

Last Monday a case was on trial in criminal court in which Christe was indirectly interested and he was accused of tampering with a witness.

WAS TAFT'S DAY AT OHIO CAPITAL

Opens Republican Convention, but Says Nothing in Speech About Canal Policy.

GIVEN ENTHUSIASTIC GREETING

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—That the administration considers the excitement aroused by its announcement of the Panama canal policy as a closed incident was shown today by the address of Secretary of War Taft, as temporary chairman of the Ohio Republican convention. The subject was not mentioned in his speech. It did not come before the convention in any form and as Secretary Taft took occasion to discuss other national questions and policies at length, the only construction to be placed upon this omission is that the administration has determined to take no steps toward putting this policy into effect, at least until congress meets in the fall, and has had an opportunity to relieve the canal commission of the responsibility of buying in American markets when it can probably buy some things cheaper abroad.

Secretary Taft's speech was listened to with the keenest interest by the delegates and spectators. It cannot be denied that there was some uneasiness upon the part of prominent Republicans lest the secretary of war might say something that the convention in its platform would not be able to indorse. But there was no ground for such feeling. Secretary Taft did not say anything that every delegate present could not heartily concur in.

Not a Presidential Boom.

As to Secretary Taft's reception upon this, his first appearance on the firing line of practical politics within his own party, it was all that his most enthusiastic admirers could have wished for. There was nothing remarkable about it, either as to the time that the cheering lasted or as to its noise, but it was a hearty, cordial reception of this eminent statesman by his fellow citizens. When he advanced to the front of the stage, Representative Burton of Cleveland, seated in the front row, jumped up and led the cheering and waving of hats.

"Taft for 1908," yelled a delegate back in the hall, and the words were repeated by others.

"What's the matter with Taft?"

"He's all right," yelled another enthusiast, and the cheering continued.

But what took place could not be construed as a presidential boom. Anything of that sort had been frowned upon by the leaders since Senator Foraker, an avowed candidate for the presidency four years hence, announced that he would not be able to attend the convention, and stated that he did not want his friends to try to put through a resolution of indorsement for him. The Ohio organization would not stand for a Foraker boom in this convention, and if one had been started, it would have collided with a Taft boom that would have made things interesting. But when Foraker promised to suppress his, the word passed along here that nobody was to get any presidential bouquets from this meeting of Ohio Republicans.

O. B. Gould, chairman of the state central committee, called the convention to order and announced as temporary officers, Secretary Taft for chairman, John R. Malloy for secretary and William F. Cass for sergeant-at-arms. Secretary Taft delivered his speech in 45 minutes, and at the conclusion the announcement of committees was made. The convention then adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Political Good Feeling.

Secretary Taft said in part:

"Fellow Republicans of Ohio: I congratulate you on the prosperous political calm in which you meet. The tremendous victory of last fall so stunned our ancient enemy, the Democracy, that as a party it is hardly even now showing any sign of life. When a president like Theodore Roosevelt, a consistent and orthodox Republican, is welcomed with bursts of enthusiasm and admiration in Texas, and in the Democratic Iroquois club of Chicago, we may well liken the present to the era of political good feeling which prevailed early in the last century.

"In the campaign of 1904 the Democratic managers ignored the fact that it ever had been in favor of free silver, and sought to make the chief issue the personality of Theodore Roosevelt. Against him they charged imperialism, militarism, usurpation of power, violations of the Constitution, a dangerous foreign policy of intermeddling and an attempt to introduce a personal government.

"This, the secretary said, brought in review the action of the president in various matters which he pointed out, notably the recognition of the republic of Panama, the settlement of the anthracite coal strike, the bringing of the Northern Securities suit, and his Philippine policy. "It made manifest," the secretary continued, "the consistent attitude of Mr. Roosevelt in that he was neither a plutocrat nor a 'mobocrat.'"

"It is not true," he went on, "that we Republicans, merely by past success, can escape the responsibility of working out other great questions as to the solution of which all Republicans do not yet seem to be in full accord."

Inequality in Railroad Rates.

The secretary said that the interstate commerce law had accomplished much, but that inequality and injustice remained. Discussing the proposed remedial bill as it passed the house of representatives, the secretary said it "attempts to give more power to the railroad commission so that its orders when made shall be effective until set aside by judicial hearing. It does not as yet," he said, "provide for a general fixing of a table of rates by the commission, but only calls for a fixing of a maximum rate, upon complaint, with respect to a specific instance of injustice. It seems a moderate measure calculated to give the added power to the commission necessary to effectiveness in remedying specific wrongs in rates, without creating an all-powerful tribunal which shall in advance take away from railways the power of rate-making, and of elastically responding to varying conditions.

"It will not thus paralyze individual effort in meeting the changing demands of trade. We can certainly trust our lawgivers to respond to the popular demand and to regulate the railways so far as they ought to be regulated, without interfering with that control over their own property and with that motive for efficiency and economic management which are still required to make successful the enormous business of railway transportation in America. This question must be settled by Republicans.

Secretary Taft discussed the deficit in the revenues and said the Republicans must provide a suitable means of avoiding a real and permanent shortage of cash if next year is a repetition of the deficit. In this connection he said:

Remedy for the Deficit.

It may be that congress will succeed in cutting down here and there so as to reduce the deficit, but the experience of this last session in which the greatest effort to economize was made, gives little hope that if the revenues continue at the same figure as last year the appropriations may be cut down to a point where no deficit would exist. Are the people in favor of cutting down the naval or army estimates? I think I hear "no" from one end of the country to the other. Certainly the Democratic party heard that "no" in no uncertain tones. Shall we cut down the pensions? No party has the hardihood to suggest that.

There remain two alternatives, either to impose additional internal taxes or to readjust and revise the tariff. We have repealed the war taxes which afforded a large revenue, and the eight years of the present Dingley tariff have seen in this country a prosperity never before witnessed in the civilized world. If the deficit continues in serious amount, then in one way or the other either our taxation on imports or our internal revenue system must be changed to meet the shortage, with every effort to cause the minimum of business disturbance.

A congress of the United States has been elected which will meet regularly the first of December, possibly earlier by the call of the president, before which the issue of regulation of railroad rates and the method of meeting the deficit must come for decision. In the solution of these questions we can be certain that Ohio, represented by Senator Foraker, one of the ablest debaters and Republican champions in the senate, and by Senator Dick, who though a war horse in Ohio politics has still his spurs to win in that body, and by an experienced and able delegation in the house led by those veteran and accomplished statesmen, Gen. Grosvenor of Athens, and Congressman Burton of Cleveland, will support her part in bringing about a wise result.

Gov. Herrick's Administration.

We have been fortunate in having in the gubernatorial chair in Ohio in the last two years a clear-headed business man. He has been attacked with bitterness by well-meaning gentlemen who have differed with him in respect to his course upon the liquor question. If I understand the situation aright, today the Ohio liquor law is the best measure in the United States. It is a law which leaves to the people living in a community of residences the right to exclude an objectionable saloon from close proximity to them, whether in the country or in residential parts of a large city. It is moderate, it is just, it is effective.

And now, my fellow Republicans, I have attempted to review the issues, not the issues between the Republican and Democratic parties, for the Democratic party is moribund and unable to frame issues, but the issues which in the Republican party itself have been suggested for national improvement. I have ventured, although almost a stranger to the state, to touch upon one or two living state issues and to point out how much of credit for the satisfactory financial condition of the state is due to our governor. We are come to nominate a ticket which we may be reasonably sure will receive the support of a majority of the voters of Ohio, but in its makeup we should not be content simply to obtain a perfunctory victory at the polls, but by the high character of the nominees we should force from the people of Ohio a real expression of continued confidence in that party which has heretofore served them so well. I thank you for the great honor of presiding over this convention.

Will Take the Stump for Herrick.

When Secretary Taft was asked for an expression of opinion on some questions that will come before the convention, he said: "I believe the Republicans of Ohio know a good candidate when they see him. I also am of the opinion that they know a fair temperance law under the same conditions. I believe they will reelect Gov. Herrick. After my return from Manila in October I hope to add to my testimony on the Ohio stump. On the question of railway rate legislation I would shift the burden of proof from the interstate commerce commission to the railroads themselves. Let the decree of the commission be final as to rates, and if the railroads think they are not guilty of contempt of court in refusing to obey its mandates, let them go into court and prove it."

In reply to questions concerning the Panama canal policy, the secretary said: "The isthmus of Panama and the Philippine islands are outside the territory of the United States. The law provides that we shall purchase supplies for the war department in this country if the prices are the same. In the Philippine islands we are able to purchase meat brought all the way from Australia at 4½ cents per pound; in this country we are compelled to pay 15 cents per pound. The whole matter is a matter for congress to regulate. We are now merely carrying out the law as we find it. But there will be no supplies of any consequence purchased for the Panama canal work previous to the meeting of congress in special session in October."

Secretary Taft received the public at the state house this evening. Assisting him were Senator Dick and Gov. Herrick. Several thousand delegates and citizens of Columbus called to pay their respects to the distinguished guest.

CRUSADE TO CONTINUE.

State Dairy and Food Bureau Officials Confer in This City and Arrange a Further Campaign.

Officials of the state dairy and food bureau held a conference in Pittsburgh Tuesday, at which it was decided to vigorously enforce the dairy and food laws in Western Pennsylvania. Those present were Dr. B. H. Warren, dairy and food commissioner; Oliver D. Schock, assistant dairy and food commissioner; James Foust, district agent of the division, located at Altoona; H. L. Banzoff, special agent in charge of the Pittsburgh district; E. D. Miller, local agent; H. W. McIntosh, counsel for the commissioner for Allegheny county; Prof. F. T. Aschman, chemist, Pittsburgh; Dr. William Frear, chemist, State College; Prof. Evans, chemist, Erie, and other attaches of the bureau.

In view of the fact that a preliminary examination reveals that boracic acid, coal-tar colors and other illegal adulterants was found in 33 per cent of the samples analyzed, it was directed that the special agents of the commissioner should purchase samples of potted meats, canned goods, bologna, etc., in order to determine to what extent, if any, manufacturers are now disregarding the new laws prohibiting the use of chemical preservatives.

BONDSMAN IS DEAD.

Peculiar Charge Made Against the Constable of the Fourteenth Ward.

On petition of Alderman Charles Kaltenhauser of the Fourteenth ward, an order was granted in quarter sessions court yesterday on Henry Cawley, constable in the same ward, to show cause why his office should not be declared vacant.

The petition recites that Cawley was elected at the last election and that one of the signers of his bond was given as Thomas Cawley who, it is alleged, was dead when the bond was signed. The widow of Thomas Cawley brought the matter to the attention of the district attorney and it is stated that on an information charging him with forgery being made, Constable Cawley disappeared.

Alderman Kaltenhauser asked that the office be declared vacant owing to the fact that business is at a standstill in his office owing to Cawley's absence.

RACE FREIGHT TRAINS FOR $500 A SIDE

Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad men are excited over a race between James Brown, an old-timer, and "Bob" Robinson, an extra engineer, who say they will race from Neville island to Montour Junction, about seven miles, for $500 a side. Brown will race with an old "89" type engine and Robinson will use an Atlantic type. Robinson will give Brown a handicap, drawing 16 freight cars, while Brown's engine will pull eight. The race is scheduled to come off at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon and the finishing line will be at the bridge over Montour junction, Coraopolis.

Was Lenient With Spitter.

Alexander Cupps, who was arrested Tuesday for expectorating in the street cars was arraigned for a hearing yesterday before Magistrate Molee. The police judge discharged the prisoner, who insisted that he knew nothing of his offense, as he was intoxicated at the time. Charles Schroder, who was arrested for the same offense, did not appear at the hearing and forfeited his money. Officer Peter Angelo yesterday arrested an Italian for spitting on a street car.

Dismisses O'Neil from Service.

Sergeant George O'Neil, formerly of the Frankstown avenue police station, yesterday was dismissed from the service by the trial board. He was charged with conduct unbecoming an officer as a result of his conduct at the banquet of the rivers and harbors committee at the Hotel Schenley. O'Neil has been connected with the department since 1888. Joseph Costello of the South Thirteenth street station, and Patrick Mangan of the Center avenue station, were dismissed for violation of the police rules.

Cincinnati Pastor Accepts Call.

The Rev. C. W. Blodgett, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, Cincinnati, has accepted a call to the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, to take effect at the end of the conference year. Recently the Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton of the Allegheny church declared he would resign at the end of the conference year, and it is believed both clergymen will have their desires ratified by the bishops of their conferences.

Church Goers Invited to Meeting.

Every clergyman in Allegheny has been invited to attend and take his flock to the anti-graft and anti-vice mass meeting to be held in Allegheny Carnegie Music hall, Saturday night. The meeting promises to be an interesting one, and among the speakers will be Attorneys John C. Haymaker, John Marron and Harvey Henderson.

SUITS AT HALF PRICE.

The Unusual Opportunity Presented By the Leading Clothiers of Pittsburgh.

Men who have been waiting for a bargain sale of clothing will do well to read this news item.

One of the foremost of eastern manufacturers of clothing became alarmed on account of the backward summer season and dumped the choicest part of his stock on the market at about one-half its value. The Liberty Clothing Company is always looking for just such opportunities as this and snapped up the offer so quickly that the manufacturer was taken by surprise.

However, the Liberty people knew what they were doing.

This particular manufacturer makes some of the highest class clothing produced in America. If we were to mention his name you would recognize it instantly, but one of the conditions of sale is that the name be withheld, as it might affect the firm's future business with retailers.

Please understand that this is all summer clothing and embraces the most desirable materials. The purchase is divided into four lots, priced respectively: $6.98, $7.98, $8.98 and $9.98.

At $6.98 your choice of various beautiful materials, cut and finished equal to suits selling ordinarily at $12.00 to $14.00.

At $7.98 there are those famous fancy cheviots, cassimeres and worsteds, to select from. Many novelties are included in this lot. The usual prices, $15.00 to $18.00.

The $8.98 lot is a remarkable one. The tailoring of the various garments being finished by hand and having all the distinguishing earmarks of custom-made goods. The materials are among the choicest of the season. You would pay from $18.00 to $21.00 for the equal of these suits elsewhere.

If you are very particular you cannot afford to overlook the $9.98 lot. These suits are handsome beyond description, and after one is fitted to you, we defy anyone to tell whether you had it made by a high-priced tailor or not. Not only are the materials the same as are found in the shops of the best tailors, but the cut and finish of each of these suits are such as to commend them to the best dressers of the town.

It is with pleasure that we announce that this purchase embraces a large lot of outing suits, which will be sold at an average of half price. Take your choice of $6.98, $7.98, $8.98 and $9.98. These, of course, include those delightful summer materials, the well-known crashes, homespuns, flannels, etc. The coats are of the popular length and the trousers have peg tops and cuff bottoms.

There is also a big line of outing trousers at $2.00, $2.50 and $3 a pair, which are actually worth double.

Reference of the artesian well ordinance to a committee of three physicians, who are members of councils, to consult with Dr. E. G. Matson, city bacteriologist, seems to dispose of that measure. The members of the committee opposed the ordinance and voted against it when it was defeated. They do not regard it a worthy sanitary measure.

The Suez canal directors are slow financiers. They are about to reduce tolls because the terms of the original agreement provide that all profit above 25 per cent is to be applied to reduction of charges, and the company is now paying dividends of 28 per cent. Up-to-date financiers would keep piling up the capital account so as to keep dividends within bounds. The public service corporations are masters of this sort of financiering.

The Chicago strike has obtained a fresh starting point from the refusal of the express companies to take back their drivers who struck without grievance of their own and in violation of their agreement. It is now spreading rapidly through the lumber district, and through it threatens to disturb the great building industries. This is the baneful characteristic of the sympathetic strike. It constantly tends to enlarge the area of conflict and prevent any possibility of settlement save by a fight to the finish.

The frequency of bomb throwing in Russia suggests that a campaign of this character is being systematically carried on by the terrorist section of the Russian revolutionary party. These horrible exploits are carried on with shocking indifference to the safety of innocent bystanders who may be killed or maimed by an explosion meant for an official. Such outrages have never furthered the cause of constitutional reform, but tend rather to excuse and perpetuate despotic government.

The Russian fleet has suddenly reached the state of invisibility which the Japanese fleet has preserved so long. According to French advices not a trace of it is now to be found along the coast of Indo-China, and the whole of the great fleet is now on its way to some other undisclosed rendezvous. If there is anything in the Tokyo rumor that the fleet has now gained the open Pacific, it has gotten farther on its way without fighting than was thought possible. Japanese plans are a mystery, but in order to produce any marked effect upon the war the Russian fleet must strike at Japanese communications, and this cannot be done on the Pacific side.

Premier Balfour faces with smiling aplomb a political opposition confident of victory if they can only get the government to face the fiscal issue, but he refuses to allow them that satisfaction. Attempts to raise the issue by resolutions have been frustrated by the premier's announcement that the government has not adopted any policy in regard to the matter, so that the vote will be merely an expression of opinion. The latest demand of the opposition is that a day shall be fixed for bringing forward a vote of censure on the government. That would be decisive, but is not likely to be carried so long as present party lines are preserved. Eventually the fiscal issue will force new party divisions, but Premier Balfour displays great dexterity in staving off the time.

Nine awards of medals were announced by the Carnegie hero fund commission, together with the assignment of funds for worthy purposes. These are the first awards in accord with Mr. Carnegie's trust deed for this purpose and will naturally attract wide attention. Three of the medals are silver and six are of bronze. One young woman who saved a life at great peril to her own receives a medal and the sum of $500, to be devoted to educational purposes. In addition to these awards $10,000 has been set aside for relief of the sufferers from the recent calamity in Brockton, Mass. This fund, which has chiefly been a subject for humorous comment, is thus invested with the dignity of a very helpful benevolence. It must hereafter be taken seriously as a power for good.

A Good Nomination.

When a Democratic state convention violates party usages and shows some evidence of wisdom, it affords us great pleasure to note the fact and give them all the credit they deserve. The convention which met at Harrisburg yesterday did two wise and sensible things. The first was the nomination of only one candidate for judge of the supreme court, thus avoiding an unseemly scramble in their own ranks which could only result in humiliation for all the nominees but one, and the probable choice of the least worthy. The convention fitly supplemented this action by nominating for the position a lawyer of pronounced ability and high repute. Mr. Head has long held a commanding place at the Westmoreland county bar and will be a fitting companion on the bench for the three able jurists who have been named for re-election by the Republican party. His election, which will be certain, will be a distinct gain to the state, and we congratulate both him and the people on his deserved preferment.

As for the nominee for state treasurer, nothing need be said. He cannot be elected. The superior court judge will be. The platform is a fair sample of Democratic literary effort, advancing a line of illogical conclusions. It may, however, be ignored along with the nominee for state treasurer, as the utterance of a party in a hopeless minority. The attacks upon the state government are worthy of a disgruntled set of politicians, and the charges without foundation. The two or three practical recommendations probably crept in by mistake.

A Conciliatory Effort.

Secretary Taft's speech to the Ohio Republican convention was a disappointment to the sensation mongers. He spoke, as The Gazette expected, as a citizen of Ohio in sympathy with the sentiment of the delegates composing the convention over which he presided. He stood for the administration in advocating regulation of railroad rates, and referred to the national problem of keeping expenditures within the revenues, without making any positive suggestion as to the solution.

Probably Mr. Taft's most significant utterance was his complimentary reference to the Ohio delegation in congress, in which he singled out Senator Joseph Benson Foraker and Representative Charles H. Grosvenor for especial eulogy. This was in connection with allusion to Ohio as a champion of protection to American industries and the preservation of American markets for home producers—an advance notice that a strong position will be taken in the platform upon these subjects. If these remarks may be taken as the voice of the administration at Washington they mean that it is desirous of conciliating the Ohio gladiators, and is ready to recede from the recent Panama decision upon the order of congress.

Today the convention will proceed to the nomination of candidates and the adoption of a platform. The ticket is already certain and the platform will be as thoroughly Republican as the candidates in the fullest sense of the word. It will speak out in positive terms for preservation of American markets for Americans.

A Remarkable View.

Anent the Saturday meeting under the auspices of the Allegheny federation of churches, we note a remarkable view of the situation attributed to the Rev. Dr. E. L. Ealon, president of that federation. He is quoted as saying:

If I was mayor I could drive the resorts out of Allegheny in less than a month. The mayor could do it, and we can, I think, elect a mayor who will do it. Understand, we do not blame Mayor James G. Wyman for existing conditions. Mayor Wyman was elected on no special platform. He was not asked to commit himself to any policy. The politicians merely said he was a good fellow and elected him on no particular policy. We have visited Mayor Wyman, and he has told us that the disorderly houses and other resorts are an inheritance and that he would like to get rid of them if he could. It is for us to let Mayor Wyman pursue his own policy, but we can never be for him in another election unless he would pledge himself to our cause. We have told Mayor Wyman that we will throw our support to him, or to any candidate for office for that matter, who will pledge himself to enforce the law. That is what we intend to do.

It is true Mayor Wyman made no special pledges on this subject prior to election, but it is equally true he took a solemn oath of office when installed as mayor, pledging himself to uphold and enforce the laws. It is not necessary now to go into a history of the establishment of vice in Allegheny, which dates as far back as the previous term of Mayor Wyman, nor to describe in detail the growth of the system. It is enough to know it exists at present and that Mayor Wyman is culpable in as far as he neglects his sworn duty to enforce the laws by every means at his command. If he does not perform that duty he is as guilty as if he had given the strongest of pledges before his election. No pledge could be more binding than the official oath.

Vital Questions Ventilated.

Two conventions meeting in our city during the present week have brought up for discussion two vital questions which are not quite as much talked about as railroad rate regulation and the divorce evil, but in their way hardly less important. Treating and tipping were the subjects of these grave deliberations, and it need hardly be said that the Germans decided in favor of the "Dutch treat," while the colored waiters registered in favor of the customary baksheesh. If it had turned out otherwise, the barbers might be expected to declare for full beards and flowing locks, or the butchers to advocate vegetarianism. A great many people, taking this view of the matter, will hardly attach as much weight to the outcome of these discussions as they might otherwise. But they are too significant and far-reaching to be thus ignored.

If the other fellow has joined an anti-treating league, what's the use of treating him? And if they who serve by only standing and waiting have decided that the elusive dime or nimble quarter shall require their patience, they are bound to get it. Francis Murphy might have talked for 10 years without bringing about the one reform, and Edward Bok may write editorials for 10 years without impinging upon the other institution. It is in the nature of things that reforms, like charity, begin at home, and the epoch-making manifestoes of the two conventions will probably hold for a long time. Treating is not indigenous to the fatherland; the Germans have said it, and so the practice stands condemned. Tipping is a necessary evil, if an evil at all; the waiters have said it, and so the custom stands approved. All that remains is to see what the people are going to do about it. They will probably act as usual on the principle that in these matters the easiest way is the best.

Approaching an Agreement.

The senate committee on interstate commerce has concluded its hearings as to railway rate legislation, after having taken a vast mass of testimony. The matter has been discussed from all points of view and representations of nearly every important industry have been heard. Senator Elkins' felicitations upon the usefulness of the work of the committee are well founded and perhaps one important result is already to be noted in the report from Washington that common ground is being reached between the railway interests and the interstate commerce commission upon which to frame an acceptable measure.

Probably the main benefit of the hearings has been the effect upon the railway companies themselves which have been enabled to gauge the strength of the demand for government control and to appreciate the force of public sentiment sustaining the president's policy. The able managers of transportation interests are well aware of the danger of allowing them to get into the vortex of a protracted controversy, and the attitude of concession now reported is what was to have been expected. The difficult point has been as to when a declared rate should become effective, and as to that it is reported that the railroads are inclined to yield, provided a reasonable time be allowed in which to appeal to the courts. This concedes the principle for which the commission contends, and gives ground for the hope that this vexed question will finally be disposed of by a harmonious settlement.

Victoria and Niagara.

The first question that is asked of an American who has seen this African wonder generally is: "How does it compare with Niagara?" There is no possibility of comparison. The two are as different as day and night. Niagara is a perfect picture in a lovely natural framework. Every point and line and curve of motionless rock, trembling verdure and gliding water is a touch of majestic beauty. Victoria is simply a phenomenon, a terrific gash in the floor of an apparently unending plain, which, as one gazes, simply swallows a river in a manner that produces almost a thrill of horror.—The Century.

The Music That Carries.

I've toiled with the men the world has blessed,
And I've toiled with the men who failed;
I've toiled with the men who strove with zest,
And I've toiled with the men who wailed.
And this is the tale my soul would tell,
As it drifts over the harbor bar;
The sounds of a sigh don't carry well,
But the lilt of a laugh rings far.

The men who were near the grumbler's side,
O, they heard not a word he said;
The sound of a song rang far and wide,
And they hearkened to that instead.
Its tones were sweet as the tales they tell
Of the rise of the Christmas star—
The sounds of a sigh don't carry well,
But the lilt of a laugh rings far.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Every age has its typical men, every event its chronicler, every noble theme its evangel.

Sometimes, even very often, these are not known to the times in which they live, but sooner or later they are found out, their fame grows and at last they are fully appreciated.

Goodness and moral worth cannot be effectually hidden. They are positive qualities and as such must ever dominate negation.

It is not necessary in order to be good and great and loved, that a man should write tome on tome, poem on poem, or preach from every hilltop. One poem, one bold declaration, one noble act may mark a man for all time, to be read and heard and sung by each succeeding generation.

The chronicler of events cannot do better for his time than to recall those who have done master work. In so doing he does more to inspire his readers than he could possibly do by noting commonplace events or giving expression to his own thoughts and feelings.

James Hislop is a name which you may not recall, and yet his was a name that will never die. He did not write a great deal, but he wrote not alone from his own heart out, but of that which was in the heart of a whole people.

The following sketch and poem tells the whole of a most interesting story:

Mr. Quiet Observer:—On February 13 you were pleased to publish a brief biographical history of William Knox, the author of Abraham Lincoln's favorite poem, "Oh, Why Should the Spirit of Mortal Be Proud." That poem immortalized its author.

At this time, when so many Presbyterians are in session, and particularly the Reformed Presbyterish synod of North America is meeting in New Castle, it is fitting that their favorite poem should be given with a brief account of its author.

James Hislop, a short-lived poet of much promise, was born of humble parents in the parish of Kirkconnel, Dumfrieshire, Scotland, in July, 1798. Under the care of his grandfather, a country weaver of piety and worth, he received the rudiments of a passable education. About the age of 18 he obtained a year's schooling, and before 20 he became a respectable classical scholar.

Like many other sons of genius his life was checkered and short. When a child he was a cowherder, and at 14 a shepherd. He was reared in the immediate vicinity of one of the scenes of conflict between the soldiers of Charles II. and a small party of covenanters, in which their minister and famous leader, Richard Cameron, was slain. This scene inspired the shepherd boy of 16 to compose the "Cameronian's Dream," which has justly immortalized his name. The poem first appeared in the Edinburg Magazine, February, 1821, and attracted much attention, calling forth the kindly criticisms of the Rev. Moorhead, Allison and Lord Jeffrey, Allan Cunningham, Johanna Bailey and other celebrated literary characters.

In 1826 Hislop was appointed teacher of an extensive free school near London, which at the end of a year he exchanged for schoolmaster on board the Tweed man-of-war bound to the Mediterranean and Cape of Good Hope, and while cruising off the Verde islands he, with other shipmen, made a pleasure visit to the island of St. Jago. Sleeping a night on shore they were all seized with fever, and to six of the party, including Hislop, it proved fatal. Lingering 12 days he died and was buried at sea December 24, 1827, in the 29th year of his age.

THE CAMERONIAN'S DREAM.

In a dream of the night I was wafted away
To the mulrlands of mist, where the martyrs lay;
Where Cameron's sword and his Bible are seen
Engraved on the stone where the heather grows green.

'Twas a dream of those ages of darkness and blood,
When the minister's home was the mountain and woods,
When in Wellwood's dark valley the standard of Zion,
All bloody and torn, 'mong the heather was lying.

'Twas morning, and summer's young sun from the east
Lay in loving repose on the green mountain's breast;
On Wardlaw and Cairntable the clear shining dew
Glisten'd sheen 'mong the heath-bells and mount-flowers blue.

And far up in heaven 'neath a white, sunny cloud,
The song of the lark was melodious and loud;
And in Glenmuir's wild solitude, lengthened and deep,
Were the whistling of plovers and bleating of sheep.

And Wellwood's sweet valley breathed music and goodness,
The fresh meadow bloom hung in beauty and redness;
Its daughters were happy to hail the returning,
And drink the delights of green July's bright morning.

But ah! there were hearts cherished for other feelings—
Illumined by the light of prophetic revealings—
And drank from the scenery of beauty but sorrow,
For they knew that their blood would bedew it tomorrow.

'Twas the few faithful ones who with Cameron were lying
Conceal'd 'mong the mist where the heath-fowl were crying;
For the horsemen of Earlshall around them were hovering,
And their bridle reins rung through the thin misty covering.

Their faces grew pale and their swords wete unsheathed,
But the vengeance that darkened their brows was unbreathed;
With eyes raised to heaven, in calm resignation,
They sung their last song to the God of salvation.

The hills with the sweet mournful music were ringing,
The curlew and plover in concert were singing;
But the melody died 'midst derision and and laughter
As the host of ungodly rush'd on to the slaughter.

Though in mist and in darkness and fire they were shrouded,
Yet the souls of the righteous were calm and unclouded;
Their dark eyes flash'd lightning, so proud and unbending
They stood like the rock which the thunder was rending.

The muskets were flashing, the blue swords were gleaming,
The helmets were cleft and the red blood was streaming.
The heavens grew black and the thunder was rolling,
As in Wellwood's dark muirland the mighty were falling.

When the righteous had fallen, and the combat was ended,
A chariot of fire through the dark cloud descended.
Its drivers were angels on horses of whiteness,
And its burning wheels turned upon axles of brightness.

A seraph unfolded its doors bright and shining,
All dashing with gold of the seventh refining;
And the souls that came forth out of great tribulation,
Have mounted the chariot and steeds of salvation.

On the arch of the rainbow the chariot is gliding;
Through the path of the thunder the horsemen are riding;
Glide swiftly, bright spirits! the prize is before ye,
A crown never fading, a kingdom of glory!

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 24.—That Whitelaw Reid, who soon is to sail to his new post as ambassador at the court of St. James, is to turn over his magnificent country estate, Ophir Farm, at White Plains, to a charity organization during his four years' absence abroad, was a report that gained currency today. None of Mr. Reid's representatives could be found here today who would discuss the report. Mr. Reid recently disposed of all his blooded farm stock, including his noted herd of dairy cattle and all his thoroughbred horses. It is stated that Mr. Reid is determined during his stay abroad to give the Ophir farmhouse and grounds for the use of aged and indigent women of New York or for mothers and their babies from the crowded tenement districts of the city.

Ophir Farm is situated in the outskirts of White Plains and is one of Mr. Reid's most valuable possessions. It is a fine example of the English manor, with wide lawns and fine old forest trees. There are 800 acres of gently rolling country, with shaded drives, scattered groves and wide reaches. This was a historic country home, originally "Ben" Halliday's estate, with farmhouses where noted Quakers lived, a private chapel and burying ground in a remote corner of the place. The residence itself is as imposing as any English nobleman's. It stands on a commanding eminence overlooking the country for 20 or 30 miles around, with lawns and acres of ornamental shrubberies and forest, rare trees and plants from foreign countries. A unique feature is Mr. Reid's "sunken garden," almost hidden from view, a reminiscence of the old chateau places in Switzerland and Italy.

Actress Creates Stir in Society.

No little comment has been caused by the action of the Turf and Field club in barring a well-known actress from the reserved boxes at the Belmont track. In such a way as to leave no doubt of the definiteness of the ruling, but couched in a form as little offensive as possible, the actress and the others with her were informed that they would save trouble for themselves as well as for the officers of the club if they would in the future absent themselves from the reserved boxes. In the height of the excitement of a close finish, according to the report made by the woman detective to those who employed her to keep the box occupants under observation, several women, including the actress, also lost control of their feelings and became so enthusiastic that they went so far as to address men in the exclusive set by their first names, shouting with glee if the horse which carried their money won and revealing an intimacy with certain men, which was shocking to wives and relatives of members of the club.

Graft in Large Figures.

The police of New York are very much interested in the address of former District Attorney Philbin of New York city before the Cornell law school, in which he declared the graft tribute paid annually to the New York police to be $1,000,000. "You will be astonished," he said, "when I tell you that I know that in the Tenderloin district alone the graft tribute has amounted to $20,000 per month. Three gambling houses paid $500 per month to run; disorderly houses paid $500 to open and $50 each month to run, while other places paid proportionate fees." He said that the citizens were better protected by the police under Devery than at present. Devery maintained better discipline than now exists, he declared.

Scheme to Burn Up Swamps.

Swamps may soon be utilized as sources of heat and power if the experiments now being conducted with peat prove successful. A company was incorporated yesterday at Albany and its certificate gives it authority to operate wherever there is a swamp of profitable dimension. The raw material which is to be used represents the first stage of coal making, the other stage being lignite. The peat will be dug from the swamps, dried and then burned in a patent furnace which the company controls. By means of an air draught the smoke and gases which are evolved are also consumed. The heat is converted into steam and that in turn transformed with electricity to be conveyed by wires to points where power is required. The company has an experimental plant in operation at Norwood, Mass.

Philadelphia First, New York Second.

"Philadelphia is without doubt the rottenest city in the world, and New York is a good second," is the epitomized opinion of the Rev. Dr. C. H. Parkhurst, who, with Mrs. Parkhurst, sailed today on the Baltic for his annual vacation in Europe. Beyond this expression Dr. Parkhurst gave a negative interview to newspaper men. Standing on the deck of the big steamship, Dr. Parkhurst was more inclined to discuss his vacation trip. He will change his itinerary this year, and will sojourn some weeks in Northern Scotland, visiting Aberdeen, Inverness and other points of interest.

"Will you visit Skibo Castle to see Mr. Carnegie?" was asked.

"I will be in that vicinity," was the reply.

New Vanderbilt Station Opened.

Clifton station, on the Staten Island Rapid Transit railroad, was closed yesterday, and today the trains which formerly stopped at it stopped at Vanderbilt, a new station close by. The building was erected by George N. Vanderbilt, at the foot of Vanderbilt avenue, which leads to property he is improving. Yesterday Talbot Root turned over the keys to the station, golden ones tied with red, white and blue ribbons, to George R. Cromwell, general manager of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Company. This station is one of the most striking in the state. No wood is used in its construction and the walls are of concrete.

THE LOG HOUSE.

A Summer Home in the Woods.

Dan Beard describes the joys of building a log house and occupying it in an article in Country Life in America, as follows:

"Our log house on the shore of Big Tink Pond, Pike county, Pa., was built long before the general public had been educated to enjoy the subtle charms of wild nature, at a time when nature study was confined to scientists and children and long before it was fashionable to have wild fowl on one's lawn and wild flowers in one's gardens. At that time only a few unconventional souls spent their vacations out of sight of summer hotels, camping on the mountains or forest trails. The present state of the public mind in regard to outdoor life has only been developed within the last few years, and when I first announced my intention of hunting up some secluded wild corner and there erecting a log house for a summer studio and home I found only unsympathetic listeners. But I was young and rash at that time and without any previous experience in building or the aid of books to guide me, and with only such help as I could find among backwoods farmers, I built a 40-foot front two-story log house that is probably the pioneer log house in this section erected by a city man for his country home.

Could Not Understand "Simple Life."

"To my surprise I discovered that even among the old mountaineers, I could find none who had ever attended a log-rolling frolic or participated in the erection of a real log house. Most of these old fellows, however, could remember living in such houses in their youth, but they could not understand why any sane man of today wanted 'to waste so much good lumber,' and in the quaint old American dialect, still preserved in these regions, they explained the wastefulness of my plans and pointed out to me the number of good planks which might be sawed from each log.

"If the backwoods farmers did not understand a draughtsman's plans they did understand building a 'dry stone wall,' and the first mistake I made was to engage a stray city stone-mason to do that work for me when I should have employed a native. A dry stone wall is one built of unhit stones without the aid of mortar, mud or cement, and anyone who has attempted to construct masonry of this kind will admit that there is an art in this primitive craft of which an ordinary stone-mason knows nothing. However, anyone may learn to do this fascinating work by watching the natives building stone fences.

An Ax for a Tool Chest.

"My helpers were all experts with an ax and this instrument with them took the place of carpenter's chest of tools, so when it came to clearing away the trees for the site of the house, it was done in a remarkably short time. After this the underbrush was cleared away for a long distance around the proposed house, in order to lessen the danger from forest fires. This left a charming grove of trees in the midst of which the house now stands. We laid the foundation in a trench upon the top of a natural terrace, the ancient bank of a prehistoric glacial lake which is now shrunken to much smaller dimensions and about one-fifth of the original depth.

"The only trees of considerable size which the lumbermen had left on our land were some disreputable looking pitch-pine trees, but they were reasonably straight and we felled them for the logs for the house, and they have proved to be most excellent material for such a purpose. I paid a man 10 cents a tree to cut them, and 20 cents apiece more to peel the bark from the logs. It is a mistake to leave the bark on the logs used for a permanent structure, for it not only harbors all sorts of creeping things but also encourages moisture and the wood-boring larvae of certain beetles; the last two combined soon produce dry rot in the very best of lumber and the logs crumble away.

The Life Near to Nature.

"Dwellers in our big cities do not seem to realize that there is any other life possible for them than a continuous nightmare existence amid monstrous buildings, noisy traffic and the tainted air of unsanitary streets. They seem to have forgotten that the same sun that in summer scorches the towering masonry and paved sidewalks until the canyon-like streets become unbearable also shines on green woods, tumbling waters, and mirror-like lakes; or, if they are dimly conscious of this fact, they think such delightful places are so far distant as to be practically out of their reach—in every sense. Yet in reality the wilderness is almost knocking at their doors, for within a hundred miles of New York black bears, spotted wildcats and timid deer live unconfined in their primitive, wild condition. Fish caught in the streams of this country can be cooked for dinner in New York the same day, and wild birds inhabit the open wood and copses. The land is cheap—selling for $20 an acre and less—and the living delightful. The lumbermen have long since cut away the original woods of white pine, spruce and hemlock, but the second-growth timber is now large enough to be dignified by the name of a forest. The cost of the cabin I built was $800. The item for labor varies in inverse ratio with the amount of work by the owner.

The People's Palace.

The Peoples Palace, an amusement hall of the Rev. John L. Scudder's First Congregational church of Jersey City, cost $200,000, and another $100,000 is to be spent in extensions and improvements. Joseph Milbank, a parishioner, furnished the money. The hall seats 2,100 persons. The membership of the Peoples Palace club includes more than 800 men and boys and more than 300 women and girls. There are reading rooms, a library, two halls for entertainments, a roof garden, billiard and pool tables, a shooting gallery and a gymnasium. Military drills are given weekly. Classes in dancing for old and young have frequent sessions.

A Remarkable Bed Quilt.

Mrs. Edward Bass of Moorestown, N. J., has a quilt that is being inspected by housewives from far and near as well as by bevies of young women who have fond anticipations to be called Mrs. in the near future. This remarkable quilt has 3,327 pieces and the majority of the pieces measure only an inch and a quarter each. It was "pieced" by a woman 80 years old. It is believed that it is the only quilt in the country having so many pieces and made by a woman so advanced in years.—Philadelphia Record.

REMEDY FOR TYPHOID

Samuel Hopkins Adams treats of typhoid fever in American cities in the current number of Meclure's and refers to the disease and remedy in Pittsburgh as follows:

"Pittsburgh regularly delivers over more of its citizens to the avid typhoid germ per capita than any other city in the United States, though some sanitary receptacle for landfill, like Wheeling, W. Va., may take advantage of local conditions and wrest the banner from Pittsburgh for some particular year. Since 1900 Pittsburgh's typhoid death-rate per 100,000 inhabitants has varied between 124 and 144. By way of comparison, let us consider a foreign city of about the same size, obtaining its water under the same conditions. Dresden, drawing water from the dirty Elbe, has a typhoid death-rate of 4 per 100,000. This contrast is worth consideration. Dresden 4 per 100,000; Pittsburgh 124-144 per 100,000. Thus it appears that Pittsburgh wastes only from 31 to 36 times as many lives as need be given to the "modern Minotaur," as Osler terms this disease.

An Economical Investment.

"Some day Pittsburgh will have good water. It is spending $7,500,000 on a filtration plant that ought to have been completed this spring, and will probably be finished in 1906, now that the work is proceeding under adequate management. Had the present controlling board been in power since the inception of the project in 1896, the plant might well have been completed in half the time. But there were many delays; a political upheaval unsettled all municipal administration, and every important question of public policy became a battleground of faction; the estimated cost of the work was regarded as excessive and an association of taxpayers procured an injunction stopping the work until adequate funds had been specifically provided. Then came a period of inaction, while victims died at the rate of 500 a year, and while, allowing 1,000 recovered cases a year, the Pittsburghers were paying out a moderate estimate, $2,000,000 per annum for the luxury of having typhoid. The $7,500,000 investment will probably be one of the most effective money-saving devices ever put into operation. But you can't convince the average Pittsburgher today, that he isn't woefully oppressed with a needless tax.

The Filtration Remedy.

"What guarantee is there that filtration of Pittsburgh water will save lives and suffering? One need look no further than Philadelphia for the answer. Two rivers supply the city with water, the Delaware and the Schuylkill. Five pumping stations in the Schuylkill deliver into Philadelphia reservoirs the drainage of a 40-mile stretch of territory of almost continuous cities, towns and villages interestingly diversified by frequent slaughter-houses, tanneries and other forms of industry which enrich the stream with their waste. Few known natural liquids can compare with Schuylkill river water as a fertilizing agency. The Delaware's current is a much weaker solution when it reaches Philadelphia, but the great city pours an enormous mass of sewage into it, and it often happens that the backwater pushes this up into the intakes. Then not to put too fine a point upon it) the Quaker City drinks at its dinner tables the water in which it took its morning bath. For many years Philadelphia swallowed drainage, and accepted its typhoid rate as inevitable. Then it woke up and set about building a huge filtration plant. When the first department was put into operation, it furnished a district of 46,000 population in West Philadelphia. Out of the first 24 weeks (beginning June 19, 1904), there were 13 weeks in which not a single case of typhoid was reported from the filtration area. In the same 24 weeks, the rest of West Philadelphia (population 100,000) reported from two to 29 cases per week. October is reckoned a 'typhoid month' in Philadelphia. Last October 325 cases were reported in the city at large, not one of which came from the district supplied with filtered water.

Toughness of the Pie.

Mrs. Rorer, the cooking teacher, invariably prefaces her class lessons with a story, even if it is sometimes against herself. "I had a pupil once," she said to her New York class, "who came to me in tears. She had not long been married, and her husband had taken her from behind a cashier's desk. Before the wedding she came to me for a few cooking lessons. Afterward for a while hubby was content with everything, but pretty soon he began to miss the things that mother used to make. Nothing suited him. One day she made him a chicken pie—her first attempt.

"'What's the matter with this pie?' he exclaimed, after the first mouthful.

"'I am not aware that anything is the matter with it,' she retorted with spirit, weary of his grumbling.

"'What is in it?' he continued.

"'It is beefsteak pie, and I made it out of Mrs. Rorer's cookbook.'

"'I see,' he grumbled, 'and this leathery part is the binding.'"—New York Times.

Outlawed Bank Notes.

The financial world will be greatly startled by a decision just rendered in Minnesota by a justice of the peace to the effect that a national bank bill is outlawed and cannot be of any value to any one, and therefore cannot constitute a good tender for a debt after six years from its date. The opinion of the learned justice states that the law is to the effect that a demand must be made within six years in order to preserve a cause of action on a demand note, that the banknote is a demand note, and in the absence of proof that payment thereof had ever been demanded of the bank the note is outlawed. Strange that he ever thought of it before.—Care and Comment.

"Do you remember, dear," he asked, as they sat down on one of the rustic seats at the summer resort, "that I cut our initials on this tree behind us three or four years ago?"

"Why, no, George," she replied. "I don't remember that. Are you sure?"

He arose, walked around the tree, and inspected the bark closely.

"Yes," he said, "it's the same tree, all right, but it was another girl."—Chicago Tribune.

BIGELOW LOSES AGAIN IN SELECT

Artesian Wells and Engine House Site Bills Go Back to Committee.

SURPRISES IN UPPER BRANCH

The city administration got another drubbing in select council yesterday afternoon. A quorum of the upper branch was obtained after considerable trouble and delay, but the administration failed to put through a single bill on which a fight was made. The Roenigk artesian well ordinance was reconsidered, but referred to a special committee of three physicians of select council, who are known to be strongly opposed to artesian wells.

Here the ordinance will probably remain until the end of the councils. The administration also lost on the Eighteenth ward engine house site, the ordinance authorizing the purchase of a site in Stanton avenue being sent back to the special committee, which reported it affirmatively.

Select council was called to meet at 3 o'clock and a quorum was present in the city hall at that hour, but it was not until 3:15 that President Wightman called the body to order. Only 17 members, three short of a quorum, responded to the roll call, a number remaining outside in the corridor. A recess of 10 minutes was taken and at the expiration of the recess just 20 members were found to be present. Realizing that it was useless to longer attempt to prevent a quorum, other members came into the chamber.

Referred to Three Doctors.

After the presentation of new bills the first business transacted was on the artesian well ordinance. Peter Hermes moved the reconsideration of the vote by which the ordinance had been indefinitely postponed at the previous meeting. This motion was carried by a vote of 16 to 10. Then Dr. Walters of the Twentieth ward sprung a surprise by moving to refer the ordinance to a special committee of three or five members of select council who are physicians, and that this committee consult with Dr. E. G. Matson, the city bacteriologist.

The motion was carried by almost a unanimous vote and the membership of the committee was limited to three. President Wightman appointed as members, Dr. W. R. Walters, Dr. W. H. Weber and Dr. W. D. O'Brien. These three physicians are opposed to the artesian well project, every one having voted against it.

Mr. Roenigk was present when his ordinance was shelved and he was asked what he thought of it.

"It was a surprise to me," he said. "I know the committee is antagonistic to artesian wells."

Director Bigelow and Mayor Hays said the action of select council on the artesian well ordinance suited them.

"We have it just where we want it," said the mayor.

Dr. Walters, who was first named on the committee and who will probably be the chairman, laughed when he was asked when the committee would meet.

Moore Also Surprised.

Director Moore was also treated to a surprise when select council returned the ordinance for the Eighteenth ward engine house site to the special committee. When L. H. Frederick, a member of the special committee, reported the ordinance as chairman, Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., of the Eighteenth ward objected on the ground that the committee had not organized and its action on the bill was irregular.

He declared the members of the committee had met, but had not elected a chairman, and said this did not constitute a legal meeting. Mr. Frederick replied that he was chairman because he was the first member named by President Wightman. This view was disputed by Mr. Wainwright and John Upperman. They demanded that the minutes of the meeting of the committee be produced, and the minutes showed that a chairman had not been elected. John Costello argued that in the failure of the committee to do its duty Mr. Frederick had the power to act as chairman and make the report to councils.

Engine House Bill Recommitted.

Mr. Wainwright said a delegation from the Eighteenth ward was present to be heard on the question of the engine house site, and he asked that the ordinance be sent back to the committee in order that the Eighteenth ward citizens could appear there. After further debate this was agreed to and the bill was recommitted. Upon motion of Mr. Costello it was agreed to increase the membership of the committee from three to five.

The combustible ordinance, regulating the manufacture, storage, transportation and sale of combustibles, was called up toward the end of the session, but when the clerk began reading the bill the members flocked out of the council chamber to obtain refreshments, as the reading of the bill was expected to consume an hour. Then Mr. Upperman called attention to the fact that a quorum was not present and the clerk stopped reading. A recess was taken, but when the roll was called again a quorum was still absent. Then the body adjourned.

A strange feature of the meeting was the passage of an ordinance authorizing the letting of a contract to build the engine house in the Eighteenth ward, when a site for the engine house has not been purchased and it is not known what site will be selected finally.

Other bills passed finally include the ordinance authorizing contracts for the employment of an architect and for the constructions of the First ward engine house, and an ordinance authorizing the purchase of three new steam engines and two hose wagons.

LUNG TROUBLES LEAD.

Pneumonia and Consumption Head the List of Fatal Diseases.

There were 124 deaths in the city last week, exactly the same number as the corresponding week last year. The principal causes were pneumonia, 12; consumption, 12; typhoid fever, 6; scarlet fever, 6; violence, 10, one of which was exposure to cold. During the week there were reported 29 cases of typhoid, 30 of scarlet fever and 4 of diphtheria. Six cases of typhoid fever and three of scarlet fever were reported yesterday.

GERMANS HOLD FINAL SESSION

Decide to Join Central Verein, and Elect Pittsburgher President of State League.

A BANQUET FOR DELEGATES

The German Catholic societies of Pennsylvania yesterday elected officers and adjourned. A banquet was given the visiting delegates and their wives in St. Mary's parochial school hall, Allegheny, last night. Today the delegates will visit the principal points of interest in this section and most of them will leave for home tonight. About 300 people attended the banquet, including delegates, priests and Allegheny City officials. The banquet was served under the direction of the women members of St. Mary's church, Allegheny.

The last session of the convention began at 2 p. m. and after a long discussion the delegates voted that the state league join the Central verein and further the interests of the German language and the German Catholic church in America by building casinos throughout the state for the benefit of the members of the league. Philadelphia was selected as the convention city, next May. The Rev. Father John Otten of Sharpsburg and Joseph H. Reiman of Pittsburgh were elected delegates to the annual meeting of the Central verein in Cincinnati next September, and F. W. Officers of the state league were elected as follows:

Joseph H. Reiman, Pittsburgh, president; Peter Huehl, Philadelphia, first vice president; Jacob Seappert, Wilkesbarre, second vice president; Louis Seethaler, Allegheny, third vice president; Peter Yochem, Pittsburgh, recording secretary; John Wetzler, Jr., Philadelphia, corresponding secretary; John C. Baldauf, Pittsburgh, financial secretary; Conrad Lang, Wilkesbarre, treasurer.

President Reiman appointed the following vice presidents, who are the chairmen of the several county societies of which they are members:

GRADES TO BE CHANGED.

Allegheny Councilmen Arrange for New Grades Made Necessary by Railroad Plans.

The sub-committee on Surveys of Allegheny councils yesterday went over the ground affected by the change of grade of the Pennsylvania lines from North avenue to Washington avenue. The committee affirmatively recommended ordinances changing grades as follows:

Irwin avenue from 20 feet south of Beech street to the railroad bridge; Washington avenue from 165 feet east of Fulton street to the railroad bridge; Beech street, cartway and south sidewalk only from Irwin avenue to 54 feet east; Irwin avenue extension, cartway only, from Irwin avenue to North avenue; St. Clair street, from Washington avenue to 54 feet north; Allegheny avenue from 60 feet south of East Juniata street to the railroad bridge; Grant avenue from opposite the angle on the west line of Grant avenue to the railroad bridge; Juniata street from Allegheny avenue to Sedgwick street; Hahn alley, from Juniata street to Rush street; Kirkpatrick avenue from Sedgwick street to St. Clair street; Grant avenue from Pennsylvania avenue to Oak alley; Washington avenue bridge approaches, from 160 feet east of Fulton street to the railroad bridge.

The committee also approved an ordinance opening an alley from Washington avenue to Warner street and a resolution providing for condemnation proceedings to secure ground required for the Washington avenue bridge approach. These ordinances will be considered by the surveys committee tomorrow night.

COMPANY ASKS CITY TO VACATE A STREET

Seeks Long Strip In Lawrenceville Without Compensation—Hermes Gives Up Watson Street.

The vacation of a 9-foot strip of land, 250 feet long, in Forty-second street, Seventeenth ward, is sought by the Seamen-Sleath Company, a manufacturing concern, without offering any compensation to the city. An ordinance for the vacation of this strip was introduced in select council yesterday afternoon.

The portion of Forty-second street which it is proposed to vacate extends from Willow street clear to the Allegheny Valley railroad, and abuts the manufacturing property of the Seamen-Sleath company on the west side of the street. The company proposes to build an extension to its plant on the additional ground which it asks the city to vacate. Forty-second street is only 40 feet wide.

Select Councilman Peter Hermes yesterday introduced in select council an ordinance repealing the vacation of Watson street between Shingiss and Boyd streets, under an ordinance passed on January 18, 1899. Watson street, between Boyd and Shingiss, runs between property owned by Mr. Hermes. By the vacation of the street it reverted to the abutting property and became the property of Mr. Hermes. He proposed to extend his wholesale milk depot over the street.

Oates, D. H. Rowe and G. S. Kline. Mr. Wilcox until two years ago was a prosperous business man of West Fairview, near Harrisburg, having to give up business on account of ill health. He lost faith in medicine and started on a tramp of 3,000 miles to recover his health.

INDUSTRIAL PARLIAMENT HEARS OF IMMIGRATION

Geographical Education Is Necessary to Proper Distribution of Foreigners.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 24.—A discussion of immigration and an address by Gustav H. Schwab, of New York, on "Foreign Commerce and Ocean Transportation," were the features of today's sessions of the Southern Industrial parliament. The immigration question was discussed by Senator Simmons of North Carolina and Commissioner Gen. Frank P. Sargent of the immigration bureau. Permanent organization was affected by the election of Gov. Robert Glenn of North Carolina as president and other officers including a vice president for each of the states represented.

Commissioner Sargent recited the difficulties involved in the handling of the countless thousands of foreigners annually coming to the United States. No one, he said, would deny the absolute necessity of rigidly enforcing the immigration laws if it was desired to maintain the high standard of civilization of which this country boasts, but in enforcing these laws he said the policy of the government had been to do so in a humane way, because unless kindness was shown to the stranger first coming to the United States, he could not be expected at the outset to have a good impression of the country.

Mr. Sargent declared that 30 per cent of all the immigration to America came to the state of New York, with the great bulk of the aliens remaining in New York city. They do not, before coming here, he said, look up the geographical situations, simply going to where their friends have preceded them. All they know is, he continued, that there is an old Castle Garden, a "Battery" in New York city, and a Great New York, which to them constitute a world. What was needed was to offer advantages to aliens coming to the United States whereby they may gather some knowledge of the country outside the great centers of population.

DETROIT, MICH., May 24.—Judge Winchester of St. Thomas, Ont., ordered the deportation of some of the officials of the Pere Marquette railroad in Canada, for violation of the alien contract labor law, as the result of an investigation into charges that the railroad had been following a policy of replacing residents of Canada and men of unquestioned competency, with officials brought from the United States.

The men ordered deported are: Superintendent J. S. Pyeatt, Trainmaster E. Cain, Chief Dispatcher J. R. Gilhula, Assistant Master Mechanic J. McManamy, General Foreman Greening, Assistant General Foreman Shoemaker, Assistant Engineer O. C. Laseur, Foreman Osborne of the interlocking plants and signals; Private Secretary O'Loughlin of the superintendent's office, and Storekeeper Hunter, all of St. Thomas; also Edgar Britton, district passenger agent at London, Ont.

PRESIDENT MAY TAKE UP SQUABBLE

Being Urged to Recommend Government Investigation of Equitable's Affairs.

PROMINENT MEN MUST EXPLAIN

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 24.—An effort was made today to induce President Roosevelt to take an active interest in the complications which have arisen in the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society, by Clarence Whitman, president of the Merchants association of New York. Mr. Whitman urged the president to either order a government investigation or to make recommendations to congress on the subject of insurance legislation. In a letter from a prominent New York man, whose name is not disclosed, the president recently was urged strongly to institute an investigation.

Some general investigation of insurance corporations has been made already by the bureau of corporations, but it is understood that the information obtained was purely of a general character. Commissioner Garfield of the bureau of corporations is engaged now in an effort to determine whether the government has authority to make an investigation of a specific character into the insurance question without action on the matter by congress. The impression is general in official circles that the commissioner probably would have no power to make such an inquiry unless it first were authorized by congress. It is understood, however, not to be unlikely the president may discuss the subject and make some recommendations regarding it in a message to congress.

NEW WYORK, May 24.—William F. King, former president of the New York Merchants' association, has received a reply from President Roosevelt to Mr. King's suggestion that a national commission be named to investigate the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society. Mr. King regards the reply as favorable. One paragraph from the president's letter was as follows: "The department (of commerce and labor) is now carefully going into the matter to see whether the government has any power or not."

For five hours today, Gage E. Tarbell answered questions asked by Superintendent of Insurance Francis Hendricks and his counsel, Michael E. Driscoll, in the investigation of the Equitable Life's affairs. Mr. Tarbell admitted he was aware that rebating was practiced by almost every axent in the business, particularly by those who wrote large policies.

Jacob H. Schiff was notified tonight that he probably would be summoned tomorrow to tell what he knows about the purchase of securities by the society from Mr. Schiff's firm, while he was a member of the board of directors. E. H. Harriman will be required to state when and how the securities of railroads, in which he was financially interested, came to the strong box of the Equitable, while he was serving on the society's board of directors.

NAMES A COMMITTEE.

Reformed Synod Will Send Ministers to Investigate Workings of Anti-Saloon League.

ALLENTOWN, May 24.—The general synod of the Reformed church this morning adopted what the Rev. Dr. Victor W. Dippell of Lebanon called a "straddle" on the temperance question by naming the Rev. A. E. Dahlman, the Rev. L. B. C. Lahr and the Rev. V. W. Dippell a committee to attend the Anti-Saloon League convention at Indianapolis next November, to examine its work and operations and to report to the general synod in 1908.

The new constitution was adopted finally and now goes to the 58th classis for final adoption, a vote of two-thirds being necessary. The Rev. Phillip Vollmer, the Rev. Martin Vitz and the Rev. H. C. Nott were named a committee to translate it into German.

PLENTY OF MONEY, BUT COULD NOT PAY FARE

Thomas Barneman of Homewood was arrested on a Frankstown avenue car last night in front of the East End police station on a charge of disorderly conduct, made by the conductor of the car. Barneman claims that he offered the conductor a $5 bill, which was refused, the conductor claiming that he was not obliged to change a bill of so large a denomination. Barneman, it is alleged, insisted that he be allowed to ride, as he had done his best to pay his fare. At the police station the conductor secured the arrest of Barneman, who immediately furnished bail and was released.

KAISER GUARDS RIGHTS AS HEAD OF NAVY

Wants Fleet Society to Agitate Along Lines of Government's Program.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, May 24.—The newspapers this morning print the substance of a telegram which was sent by Emperor William to Gen. Menges, one of the highest active directors of the German Fleet society, which led to the resignation of the general from the management of the society. In his telegram the emperor says he is as little in harmony with the society's program, as are the numerous members of the society who have latterly withdrawn because of said program.

The emperor, therefore, orders that the agitation conducted by the society shall henceforth keep within the bounds of the program outlined by Admiral von Tirpitz, secretary of the admiralty, who in explaining the naval estimates before the appropriations committee of the reichstag on February 15, said that the events of the Russo-Japanese war had shown the soundness of the foundation of the principle of Germany's naval policy, namely, that the strength of a fleet lay in heavily armored ships.

The emperor regards any other activity of the society as an encroachment upon his authority as commander-in-chief of the navy.

INJURED WIFE IS QUICKLY FREED

Mrs. Nettie K. Kaylor Receives Divorce from Her Husband, an Evangelist.

TELLS OF CRUEL TREATMENT

Judge Marshall Brown of common pleas court No. 1 yesterday granted a divorce to Mrs. Nettie K. Kaylor from her husband, the Rev. Albert H. Kaylor, an evangelist, the commissioner, John L. High, presenting probably the most sensational testimony ever produced in a divorce case in the state, if not in the country. Kaylor has been frequently heard in revivals in this city, and was noted as an orator of unusual ability, while his pictures have been printed in almost every large journal in the country. In a recital of her marital difficulties, as shown by the report of the commissioner, Mrs. Kaylor says:

I was married to Albert H. Kaylor February 2, 1897, by the Rev. Frank Talmage at his home in California avenue, Allegheny City. My husband has the marriage certificate. My husband never provided me a home. He was an evangelist and we traveled from place to place, stopping at hotels, boarding houses and wherever we could find accommodations. While in Pittsburgh or Allegheny we always lived with my mother. During the first year of our married life my husband began to abuse me. He was a man of ungovernable temper. He would swear at me and call me vile names. This happened frequently. Every time he became provoked at anything he took his vengeance on me. In the second year he choked me several times. While at Homer City, Indiana county, in July, 1901, he struck me and knocked me down.

Went Away With Singer.

He knocked me down a number of times after that. In January, 1904, he left me. He choked me so severely during 1901 that I had to consult Dr. R. M. Sands about my throat. In January, 1904, I first told Dr. Sands that the injuries to my throat were caused by choking by my husband. In January, 1904, he left me, going away with a Miss Robinson, a singer. He threatened to kill me many times, saying his only reason for not doing so was because he would hang for it. At different times he had pointed a loaded gun at me. He always kept several loaded guns in our bedroom.

Frequently he locked me up in a room, threw me against the wall, cursed me and called me vile names. One evening he came home and asked me to go out with him. While I was dressing he flew into a rage and tore my skirt off. Once, while I was ironing, he came into the room and threw everything around and trampled a tablecloth under his feet. In March, 1903, while were at Indianola, Ia., upon returning from church, he was in a great rage. He seized me roughly and threw me out of the bed. He then picked me up and threw me back into bed again. I had found a girl's picture in his trunk and had placed it on the table, which seemed to provoke him. He hurt my foot.

That morning he drew his knife and placed the open blade against my throat and heart. I was very much in fear of my life but tried to conceal the fact. In the summer of 1903 I discovered that my husband was drinking whisky. After that I saw him drunk. In October, 1903, after one of Dr. Chapman's evangelistic meetings, he apologized for his ill-treatment of me and promised to leave whisky and women alone. In 1903 he engaged Miss Robinson to sing at his meetings. He would go to her room. I asked him to see her in the parlor and he agreed. He bought some things for Miss Robinson but denied paying for them until I showed him a receipt in his name. He replied by knocking me down, stunning me. He was always comparing her to me and telling me to talk, laugh, walk and fix my hair like hers. He told me in the vilest language that he had been with Miss Robinson and would do so again if he liked. He said I could not bring this up against him because a wife could not testify against her husband on such a charge.

Was a Cigarette Smoker.

During the holidays of 1903 and 1904 I told him that if he ever knocked me down again I would tell on him. The next day he threw me on a chair and then jerked the chair from under me. He choked me and I said if he did so again I would tell Dr. Sands the cause of my throat trouble. The next time he choked me I told Dr. Sands about it. One night about 12:30 he made me get out of bed to get him something to eat. He had been in bed himself, but got up to smoke cigarettes. When I dressed and was about to leave the room he jumped between me and the door, cursed me and ordered me back to bed again. I returned to bed. He ordered me out at 1:30 again and when I got up to dress he ordered me back again, and said he did not want anything to eat, but just wanted to see if I would get up. He frequently struck me on the breast with his elbow while in bed and I became bruised and swollen. When I would not talk he would kick me and make me talk. He has thrown me on the bed and threatened to disfigure me with the water pitcher and then leave town. This was in January, 1904.

I learned after our marriage that he had been married twice before. He told me that his first wife divorced him and the second one would have divorced him had she not died. His daughter asked me if he abused me as he did her mother. He traveled with Miss Robinson from January to April. He got $30 a week and expenses. I met them on the street together in Sharpsburg in November of last year, after I had applied for a divorce, and I told Miss Robinson that he would break her heart. She laughed at me. He cursed God frequently when he was angry and drinking.

Became Very Penitent.

Dr. Sands, Mrs. Elizabeth Bruff, Mrs. Kaylor's mother; W. H. Bruff, a brother, and Bertha L. Bruff, a sister, were witnesses for Mrs. Kaylor. Dr. Sands told of her visits to him to have her throat treated and of her confessing evidently that the injuries were caused through violence on the part of her husband. The mother told of her discovery that Kaylor was abusing her daughter and of her taking him to task for it. She said the evangelist became very penitent and intimated that he could not blame the family if they "kicked him from the house." The brother and sister testified to Kaylor's violent temper and corroborated in many respects the testimony of Mrs. Kaylor and her mother. They both said that Mrs. Kaylor had insisted that neither interfere in case they should be witnesses of any of Kaylor's actions, as he had said he would kill her if her family tried to take a hand in the difficulty.

The commissioner's report was handed to Judge Brown on Tuesday and the decree handed down yesterday, when it was placed on record. Attorney L. S. Levin was counsel for the respondent.

The Rev. Albert H. Kaylor. Miss Mary Robinson.

PROVE TOO MANY AIR BRAKES ARE DANGEROUS

With representatives of every division of the Pennsylvania railroad present a test of emergency brakes was made on the Pittsburgh, Chartiers & Youghiogheny road yesterday evening at Scully's yard. The result of the test was the "buckling" of the train and the wrecking of five cars. The test is taken as proving that too many air brakes are dangerous, and that if there had been less sale on the freight train the Cleveland and Cincinnati express wreck would not have occurred.

Want Jones Buried in Maryland.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Gov. Edwin Warfield of Maryland, accompanied by Thomas A. Whelan of Baltimore and Frank H. Platt of New York, called on the president today and suggested that the remains of John Paul Jones be deposited in the crypt at Annapolis Naval academy October 19, known throughout Maryland as "Peggy Stewart day." The president informed the delegation that no definite decision had yet been reached.

Constable Is Sent to Jail.

As a result of a shooting affray at a foreign wedding celebration on Patterson avenue, Duquesne, at an early hour yesterday morning, John Segory, 32 years old, is in the McKeesport hospital with equal chances of life and death, and Constable Daniel Cooley of the Third ward, Duquesne, is in jail at Pittsburgh awaiting the result of his injuries and charged with doing the shooting. Friends of Segory testified that Cooley demanded $5 yesterday morning before he would allow a dance which was in progress to proceed.

To Have Address in German.

At a meeting of the saengerfest executive committee last night it was decided to invite H. C. Bloedel to deliver a short address in German, which will be followed by an address by Dr. J. Leonard Levy. The indications are that the fest will surpass the national event which took place here in 1897.

Railroad News.

Frederick A. Delano, the new president of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal railway, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh in conference with the officials of the road here on a number of important matters which are now being carried forward with all speed.

On the engineering and other matters of this kind Mr. Delano held a protracted conference with J. W. Patterson, vice president of the road and a number of important details were decided upon.

Mr. Delano left last evening for New York. A meeting of the board of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal will take place in that city today.

Claim Agents to Meet.

The ninth annual convention of the Association of Railway Claim Agents will be held at the Grand hotel, Cincinnati, beginning June 5. The association has made rapid strides since the last convention and according to reports the coming convention will be attended by twice as many delegates as attended the convention last year. Among the papers to be presented are the following: "Improvement of Seals and Fasteners," by John De Long, special agent Missouri Pacific, Atchison, Kan.; "Depredations Against Railroads," H. H. Germain, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, Topeka, Kan.; "Overs, Shorts and Damages," H. B. Wilson, Cincinnati Northern, Van Wert, O.; "Investigation of Criminal Cases Pertaining to Express Companies," F. M. Shafer, United States Express Company, Cincinnati, O.; "Investigation of Freight Claims Covering Loss or Damage by Theft," T. R. Griffin, Queen and Crescent route, Somerset, Ky. C. H. Dawson of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy is secretary of the association.

Schoonmaker to Remain.

"There is absolutely no truth in the published report that I am to leave the position of vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad," said Col. J. M. Schoonmaker last night. The report stated that Mr. Schoonmaker was to leave the road on account of the changes made in the Vanderbilt lines (of which the P. & L. E. is one) management. It is true he is no longer director of the Lake Shore, but this change was made so that all directors on the board reside in New York. Meetings can now be held on short notice, thus facilitating the transaction of business.

P. & L. E. Improvements.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad will start on several projects at McKees Rocks shortly, including the construction of a big car repair shop, which will be 412x415. The Jones & Laughlin Company has been awarded the contract for the structural steel. Other buildings to be erected are a car painters' shop, 120x48; a lumber storehouse, 288x132 feet; a carpenters' shop, 54x132 feet, and a paint shop 28x50.

Railroad Notes.

Work has practically been completed on the extension of the Greenbrier branch of the Chesapeake & Ohio from Durbin to Arbogast, in Pocahontas county, West Virginia. This branch will reach a large lumbering district.

G. C. Arnold has been appointed general claim agent of the Lehigh Valley.

F. S. Tooksbury has been appointed freight claim agent of the Rock Island at Chicago.

J. O. Potts, formerly inspector of maintenance of way of the Baltimore & Ohio, has been made assistant engineer of maintenance of way of the Missouri Pacific.

Turvey Found Not Guilty.

SOMERSET, May 24.—(Special.)—The jury in the case of John C. Dryden, general superintendent of the Somerset and Consolidation Coal Company vs. Samuel Turvey, a member of the United Mine Workers of America, who were on strike in the Meyersdale region, on a charge of killing William Sutton, a non-unionist, this afternoon returned a verdict of not guilty after being out two hours. The establishing of the ownership of a little yellow dog seen near the scene of the shooting figured in the case.

Y., in a suit against W. Gould Brokaw, the millionaire clubman, begun in the supreme court here today. More than 200 letters, alleged by the plaintiff to have been written by Brokaw, will figure in the case.

"The Perfect Food"

Malta-Vita "The Perfect Food," malt life, as its name implies, stands for that intense vitality that results from the daily use of a food skilfully prepared from the whole of the wheat, of which, after being cooked, each kernel has been subjected to the searching digestive action of the diastase and other enzymes of barley malt. This makes it a "predigested" food of highest nourishment value, which explains the remarkable results obtained in cases of nervous debility, deranged stomachs and constipation. Besides, it is the best food to eat.

"We have used several boxes of Malta-Vita and think it the finest food we have tried yet. Having used different kinds, we find Malta-Vita has a flavor which excels all others. We had almost despaired to find something our baby could eat without being distressed. He had, since birth, been a constant sufferer from constipation and a general derangement of the stomach and bowels. Since we began feeding him Malta-Vita he has improved wonderfully in health and is entirely cured of constipation. In fact, myself and husband realize a great benefit since using the food, as we have suffered from general debility. We find it gives life and tone to the entire system." Name given on request by Malta-Vita Pure Food Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

MALTA-VITA is a food with a "taste." It does not belong to the tasteless variety of "flaked foods" and too great credit cannot be claimed for Malta-Vita on account of the fact that it contains its own sweetening agent—maltose always being present in a proportion exceeding eight per cent and sometimes ten per cent. This is a healthy, digestible sugar, formed by the action of the malt diastase upon starch and it causes the stomach no inconvenience. This is not the case with flaked foods that are sweetened by cane sugar, beet sugar, maple sugar, boiled cider, glucose or grape sugar, as all these cause acidity in the stomach and are seriously injurious.

REGISTER GETS HIS COMMISSION

Judge Evans Decides Stengel Can Retain Percentage of Collateral Inheritance Tax.

CASE WILL BE APPEALED

Fees retained by the registers of Allegheny county for the collections of collateral inheritance tax, are declared to be a proper compensation for such work, in a decision by Judge J. A. Evans, sustaining Register George H. Stengel in an amicable action brought by the county controller to settle the question. The question will be at once appealed by Attorney George H. Calvert so that the supreme court can pass upon the question. Patterson, Sterrett & Acheson and Henry M. Scott represented the register.

Judge Evans says the only question to be decided is whether the legislature has enacted legislation permitting the retention of these commissions as private compensations. The court finds two acts bearing on the question, one of May 31, 1876, which provides for carrying into effect section 5 of article 14 of the constitution, relative to the salaries of county officers, providing for the payment of fees belonging to the state into the state treasury, and for their accounting as part of the regular fees of the officer collecting the same. Under that act it is contended that the county officer should pay the fees to the county.

The second act makes the register of counties agents of the commonwealth in the collection of the inheritance tax, allowing them to retain a percentage.

Judge Evans finds the register was first empowered to collect the tax in 1841 in case he filed a bond making the matter of collection optional, but the act of 1849 takes away the option and makes it his duty. The act of 1887 re-enacts the act of 1841 and only empowers the collection in case a bond is given. The court finds that the last act repeals the former acts and entitles the register to commissions for the collection.

BIGELOW HAS GREATER PLAN TO IMPROVE SECOND AVENUE

For This Reason He Is Trying to Secure a Repeal of Widening Ordinance.

Director Bigelow is making another attempt to repeal the ordinance providing for the widening of Second avenue from the Panhandle railroad tracks at Try street to the South Tenth street bridge at Cross street. An ordinance to this effect was introduced in select council yesterday afternoon repealing an ordinance passed on December 19, 1895. It is stated the repealing ordinance, if passed, will be followed by another ordinance improving Second avenue on a large scale.

The ordinance which Director Bigelow proposes to repeal provides for the widening of Second avenue to 70 feet from the Panhandle tracks to the South Tenth street bridge. His new scheme is to extend the widening from the South Tenth street bridge to Grant street. A part of this plan includes the abandonment of the Second avenue park, between Ross and Grant streets, and extending the building line on each side of Second avenue 20 feet, so as to give the avenue a uniform width of 70 feet.

The tracks of the Panhandle railroad are to be elevated. According to the plans the grade of the street at this point is to be lowered eight feet and the tracks raised six feet, making a total clearance of 14 feet above the level of the street.

TALKING OF CANDIDATES.

Citizens' Leaders Meet to Decide on Whom They Shall Run for County Offices.

Despite their statements that they are not at present considering candidates for the fusion ticket in the county campaign, the leaders of the Citizens are holding daily meetings to discuss that very question. Yesterday they were at it again, Mayor Hays, Director Bigelow, Murry A. Verner, J. D. O'Neil and others having conferred in the mayor's office. The Citizens intend to take the larger proportion of the county fusion nominations for themselves and are considering the personel of the candidates besides O'Neil and R. J. Cunningham, who are slated for renomination for the offices they now hold.

J. Langaderfer, the Republican city chairman of McKeesport, yesterday appointed the McKeesport committee which is to confer with similar committees from the Republican county committee and the Pittsburgh and Allegheny City committees, with a view to making uniform rules for the government of the party. The men named by the McKeesport chairman are Col. W. E. Thompson, James F. Woodward and T. H. Verner.

PIRATES FINALLY MANAGE TO WIN

Clarke's Crew Find Pitcher Whose Curves Are Easy, and They Bump the Ball.

CLYMER BACK IN GAME

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, May 24.—Revenge, sweet revenge, and that in large bunches was what the Pirates took today when they went at the Tenneyites for the second game of the series. It took them just two innings to convince Boston that a mistake had been made when a gentleman by the name of Volz was selected to do the twirling for the Beaneaters, and they drove him to the stable with neatness and dispatch. Harley, who succeeded him, was treated to a batting fest in several of the remaining innings, but managed to get through the game.

Sam Leever was on the rubber for the Pittsburgh team and his work was gilt-edged. Three scattered hits was all the Bostons could get off his delivery and he gave but one free ticket. Clymer was back in the game in the right field and Heine Peitz was behind the bat. The Pirates played good ball all through the game and the errors chalked against them were on hard chances.

When the game started it looked as if the Puritans were about to give an exhibition similar to yesterday's, when they trimmed the Smoky City lads. Any money which was wagered on such a thing is, however, now so deep in some Pittsburgh rooter's jeans that it would take a giant corkscrew to unloosen it. The score:

THE BROOKLYN HANDICAP WILL BE RACED TODAY

An Even Dozen Thoroughbreds Will Struggle for Supremacy and a Rich Prize.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 24.—From the long broad stretches of the new Belmont park to the historic course at Gravesend, eastern racing interest turns tomorrow with the nineteenth running of the classic Brooklyn handicap. An even dozen thoroughbreds are named as contenders for the $20,000 prize, and while the field does not contain a Hamburg or an Irish Lad, those carded to start are evenly matched, giving promise of a contest fought out over every yard of the mile and a quarter distance.

Delhi has the premier honor of carrying top weight, his impost being 124 pounds. Broomstick, the sturdy 4-year-old son of Ben Brush, who in the Brighton handicap of last year ran the fastest mile and a quarter known in racing annals, is next in the handicapper's estimation with 119 pounds.

Race goers are in something of a quandry tonight as to what horse shall be given the post of favorite, making it no light task to pick the probable successor to such famous performers as Ivy, Bonopole, Tenny, The Baird, Sir Walter and Ornament, who are included among the Brooklyn winners of the past.

The entries, jockeys, weights and probable odds for the Brooklyn handicap are as follows: Delhi, 124, Shaw, 3 to 1; Broomstick, 119, J. Martin, 10 to 1; Land of the Vale, 118, W. Davis, 4 to 1; Dalnty, 114, O'Neill, 9 to 1; Proper, 108, B. Smith, 8 to 1; First Mason, 118, Lyne, 5 to 1; Colonial Girl, 111, A. W. Booker, 8 to 1; Granfalio, 109, Hildebrand, 10 to 1; Sir Brillar, 92, Kelly, 100 to 1; Leonidas, 104, Knapp, 20 to 1; Pasadena, 93, ——, 20 to 1; Garrick, 92, ——, 50 to 1.

The Belmont park winners yesterday were: Tommy Waddell, La Sorciere, Vendor, Tanya, Mackey Dwyer and New York.

The winners at Churchill Downs were: Atheone, Holley Lisle, Ebony, Kurtzman, The Saracen and Edna Tannar.

Among the Clubs

International Women's Exchange.

Miss Grace Carew Sheldon, president of the International Women's exchange and its successful manager, is in Pittsburgh this week and is stopping at the Hotel Lincoln. She has just come from Hot Springs, Ark., where she has been spending a number of weeks. The exchange of which Miss Sheldon is president and some of whose work she has with her, was founded in 1880 by her society with the object of enabling women to become self-supporting, acting as a medium between the seller and the buyer. The exchange has over 500 contributors and includes among them several Pittsburgh women. It was to make a market for the work of women who are handicapped by circumstances, women who are crippled, invalids and shut-ins that the exchange was founded, and within the last year or two it has enlarged its scope, becoming international in order to admit the work of women in Porto Rico, Cuba, the Philippines, Nova Scotia and Canada. Ultimately it is the intention of its founder to exchange work with Great Britain and European countries.

Almost all of the contributors to the exchange are specialists, doing one kind of work in which they excel. No professional worker, however, is permitted to exchange. Miss Sheldon will remain in Pittsburgh throughout the week. While here she will be entertained informally by her friends in this city.

Public Housewarming is Postponed.

It has become necessary to postpone the public housewarming of the new Soho Settlement indefinitely. It was to have taken the form of a musicale next Monday evening, but now will probably not be given until fall, when invitations will be issued for the affair. Work is being pushed for the completion of the papering and painting, in order that the sub-station of the Carnegie library may be installed next Thursday. It was through the efforts of Mrs. Linden Livingston, a member of the settlement committee, that the library was secured. Miss Olcut, the children's librarian at the main library in Schenley park, has visited the neighborhood and studied carefully with Mrs. Livingston and Mrs. George Porter, the chairman of the committee, and it is through Miss Olcutt's interest that the branch library, which will be installed in the Settlement house, 2404 Fifth avenue, every weekday afternoon commencing next Thursday. The library and distributing room will be the large room on the first floor at the left of the entrance. The floor has been freshly painted, and the walls tinted. It will be lined with cases for the books, which comprise books for children at present. Later it is expected a library for adults will be added.

Juvenile Court Meeting.

The union meeting in the interests of the juvenile court, which will be held in Wilkinsburg, has been postponed from Thursday evening, June 8, to the evening of June 15. It will be conducted in the First Presbyterian church, the Rev. Thomas Pary, pastor, as previously arranged. The change in the date is due to the fact that Miss Kate C. MacKnight, president of the juvenile court committee, who was to be one of the speakers, will be in Atlantic City on the earlier date, attending a conference of club women. The speakers are to be Miss MacKnight, Mrs. Alice B. Montgomery, the head probation officer, and T. D. Sensor, a member of the committee. Mrs. Montgomery will leave the following day, June 16, for Boston, Mass., where she is to make an address in the interests of the juvenile court work. The meeting in Wilkinsburg will be held with the object of acquainting the people of that borough with the purpose of the juvenile court law and its operations. An excellent musical program will be given by the Madrigal quartet, which is composed of Miss Ruth Hay, Miss Helen Keif, Miss Abbie Carson and Miss Elizabeth Porchester.

WILLIAM ZIEGLER PASSES AWAY IN CONNECTICUT

Noted Capitalist and Promoter of Arctic Exploration—Sketch of His Career.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 24.—William Zeigler, the capitalist and promoter of arctic exploration, died today at his country home near Noroton, Conn. Mr. Zeigler had been an invalid since a runaway accident in which he was injured, last October. He sustained internal hurts and was so severely shocked that the physicians were able to do little more than ameliorate his sufferings. His wife and 15-year-old son and other relatives were at his bedside when death came.

He was born in Beaver county, Pa., September 1, 1843, and was educated in the public schools of Iowa and later became a printer. He went into the baking powder business in 1870 and made a large fortune. During the latter years of his life he operated in Brooklyn and other Long Island real estate to the extent of millions of dollars.

In 1901 he sent out the Baldwin arctic expedition at a cost of $300,000, which accomplished nothing. In 1903 he sent out the expedition under Anthony Fiala, which has not been heard from since its departure. An expedition to hunt the Fiala party is now being gotten ready at Tromsoe. Before death Mr. Zeigler directed that his demise must not interfere with the search. He left a fortune estimated at $25,000,000.

The funeral will take place Saturday.

MORE DOWNTOWN SALES REPORTED

Crossan Property, Market Street, Brings $70,000—No. 16 Third Avenue Is Sold.

GOOD EAST END PURCHASE

Two downtown sales were announced yesterday, one in Market street and one in Third avenue. The Market street lot, known as Nos. 9-11, belonged to the Crossman heirs and was sold through the Commonwealth Real Estate Company to a prominent local wholesale merchant for $70,000. It is located on the west side of the street, between Water street and First avenue, and opposite the building of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company. The lot is 19x35 feet, abutting the property of the Kelly & Jones Company. It is improved with three two-story brick buildings, occupied with small stores. The total rental is about $2,800 a year. This property adjoins the Mulvaney lot at Water and Market streets, and with it would make a good site for a modern business structure, although the depth is somewhat of a disadvantage.

The Third avenue lot sold is No. 16, which brought $18,500. It is known as the Thomas Godfrey holdings and measures 20x80 feet, having erected on it a two-story and mansard brick house. The property rents for $50 a month and J. Court of Greensburg is the reputed buyer.

Two good sales in the East End were announced yesterday. One is the property of John F. Scott at 220 Winebiddle avenue, near Friendship avenue, Twentieth ward, which Dr. William R. Hamilton bought for $25,000. The sale is said to be the outcome of the suit tried last week in which certain property owners in this district undertook to stop the Barnum & Bailey circus from showing in their neighborhood, as it is reported that Mr. Scott sold at that time he would take $23,000 for his property. The lot is 120x300 feet, and has on it a 12-room reception-hall brick house, the grounds being set with large trees. Another buyer was in the market for the property and failed to get it by only a half hour. Although the location is directly opposite the park the property is considered a bargain at the price paid.

More Facts About the Sale.

The other East End property sold belonged to Martha E. Frew and was bought by D. W. Pershing for $28,000. It has a frontage of 175.5 feet, with a depth of 208 feet at the northeast corner of Wellesley and Negley avenues, Nineteenth ward. The lot is vacant and is directly opposite the magnificent home of T. N. Barnsdall, formerly the McKelvey homestead. The lot extends back to Portland place, and it is said will be improved at once with high-class houses.

The impression that has got abroad that C. G. Paul was the sole owner of the old Chronicle Telegraph building at 547 Fifth avenue at the time it was sold to Harry Davis proves to have been incorrect. William D. Henry, president of the National Fire Proofing Company, owned 19-36 of the property, thus having a controlling interest. John C. Chapman of the Colonial Trust Company owned 8.5-36 and Mr. Paul held the remaining 8.5-36. A general readjustment of the holdings occurred after the death of Samuel C. Grier, who was one of the original buyers. The sale to Mr. Davis was made subject to the lien of about $34,000, which was assessed against the property for the widening of Oliver avenue and which is still in litigation. It is understood that the amount of this lien was included in the price, $500,000, at which the sale was reported.

J. P. McKinney Was the Buyer.

The sale of the George W. Dilworth property in Fifth avenue, opposite College avenue, for $85,000, which was published in The Gazette yesterday, was made by Henry I. Adair and Stuart H. Robinson. The buyer proves to have been J. P. McKinney of the McKinney Manufacturing Company, and the purchase means the erection of a costly residence on the site. The site is near Woodland road, opposite the residence of J. P. McCune and adjoins those of Charles E. Speer, Jr., and S. Jarvis Adams. It contains over two acres and is now being cleared by the razing of the old double house on the lot.

Through the Samuel W. Black Company J. Wineberger has sold to a local investor the property at 5522 Second avenue, Twenty-third ward, for $29,000. The lot is near Renova street and measures 48x120 feet, having on it a store building in front and four frame dwellings in the rear. The total rental is $1,152 a year.

Frank Killian has bought from Mary J. Wunderlich an irregular plot measuring about 20x57 feet on the east side of Homewood avenue, near Formosa alley, Twenty-first ward, for $26,500. The lot is improved with an apartment house.

The sale of the Blumberg property at 3350-3352 Penn avenue for $15,000 was made through the Aronson Realty Company. The sale was mentioned yesterday and the property brings in a rental of $121 a month.

Apartments Will Cost $150,000.

The Highland Apartment House Company, of which C. B. Lawton is president, is taking bids on the four-story brick and terra cotta apartment house which it will build in North Highland avenue, near Bryant street. The cost is estimated at $150,000.

Architect W. Edward Stanman will take bids next week on a brick and stone school building of eight rooms in East street, Allegheny. The building will have manual training rooms in the basement, and will cost about $50,000.

Stevenson & Adams have the contract for nine frame houses for the Patterson estate to be built in Woodland avenue, Allegheny, at a cost of about $40,000.

The contract for the $20,000 church of the Zion Evangelical congregation of Baldwin township has been awarded to Anton Holsopple of Fair Haven.

Dinwiddie street: William B. Rodgers sold to Venta Leiber an improved lot, 20x100 feet, Dinwiddie street, near Colwell street, Eleventh ward, for $6,150.

Arch street: Charles W. Jacobs sold to the M. H. Pickering Company an improved lot, 102x150x84 feet, on Arch street extending through to Grant boulevard for $5,500. The site will be improved with a big stable.

Arbor street: Peter Schwan estate sold to Fred M. Jochumsen an improved lot, 74x110 feet, in Arbor street, Twenty-first ward, for $4,167.

LEGAL NOTICES.

S. W. CUNNINGHAM, Attorney-at-Law, St. Nicholas building, Pittsburgh, Pa., in the court of common pleas No. 2, of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, No. 409, July term, 1900. In re petition of the Aspinwall-Delafield Company and of Mary C. Delafield, for satisfaction of mortgage given by James Sample to James Burd. Notice is hereby given as follows. At the above number and term, on May 20, 1905, the petition of said petitioners was presented to the court, setting forth that there appears of record in the recorder's office of said Allegheny county, in Deed book vol. 10, at page 202, a certain mortgage given by James Sample to James Burd, bearing date Nov. 4, 1793, to secure the payment of 817 pounds 12 shillings and 7 pence, payable in seven equal annual installments, commencing November 1, 1796, and that said moneys thereby were charged upon the following described lands, namely, those four certain tracts of land situate on the northwest side of the Allegheny river, in the county of Westmoreland (now in the township of O'Hara, in the county of Allegheny), Pennsylvania, called depreciation lands, which tracts are marked in the plan of District No. 4 with the following numbers, to wit: No. 3, containing 262 acres 55 perches and allowance; No. 8, containing 271 acres 17 perches and allowance; No. 16, containing 249 acres 65 perches and allowance; and No. 19, containing 235 acres 135 perches and allowance. In the margin of the record of said mortgage appears a receipt for 398 pounds 12 shillings and 2 pence on account of said mortgage debt, but no sufficient release, acquittance or acknowledgement of payment is of record in said Allegheny county. Said petitioners are the owners in severalty of said tract No. 8, except a strip of land about 27 feet wide of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company—that part thereof owned by said Mrs. Delafield being subject to certain easements; and said Mrs. Delafield is the owner of said tract No. 19. A period of much more than 21 years has elapsed after the whole of the principal of said mortgage encumbrance became payable, and no payment of principal or interest has been made on account of the same within said period of 21 years, by the present owners, or so far as can be ascertained, by their predecessors in title, and no claim has been made within said period for the payment of said mortgage debt, or any part thereof or any interest thereon. No assignment of said mortgage appears of record, or is known to petitioners, and petitioners do not know of any person interested in said mortgage except the mortgagee therein, James Burd, whose place of residence, if he is still living, is unknown to petitioners. And said petitioners prayed that the sheriff should be directed to give notice to the parties in interest, requiring them to appear and answer said petition, and that, in the event of the non-appearance of any person to answer said petition, the court should decree that the land of said petitioners should be released and discharged from the said mortgage encumbrance, and from the lien and the payment thereof. Whereupon the court directed the sheriff to give notice of the facts set forth in said petition to the parties interested and to require them to appear as prayed. Now, therefore, I, James W. Dickson, sheriff of Allegheny county, in compliance with the order of court, to hereby give notice to all parties interested in said mortgage, and to all whom it may concern, of the facts hereinbefore set forth above and in said petition, and do further notify and require them to appear in said court on the first Monday of July next (1905), to answer said petition, and to show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be made releasing and discharging the said land of petitioners from the lien of said mortgage and the payment thereof, and declaring that said mortgage should be satisfied of record, and that all actions thereon should be forever barred. James W. Dickson, sheriff.

COURT of common pleas No. 2, Allegheny county, ss.: state of Pennsylvania. W. S. Miller, solicitor.

Jennie May Cornelius and no answer filed thereto, on or before the return day, and it further appearing that after careful and diligent search and inquiry the said William W. McIntyre could not be found within the county of this commonwealth, and his whereabouts are unknown, it is ordered that an alias citation issue returnable the 27th day of May, 1905, and that the contents of the petition and of this order be published once a week in The Pittsburgh Gazette for three weeks. NEW YORK STOCKS STRONG, CLOSING AT THE TOP

Decided Change in Sentiment to the Bull Side of the Market—Luster, Electric and Steels Led Advance on the Local Board.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a decided change of sentiment to the bull side of the market in Wall street yesterday. Prices advanced almost from start to finish, closing at the best. The gains ranged from 1 to 6 per cent, and practically everything participated in the improvement.

London prices came strong and higher, and although the operations of foreigners were not an influential factor in the dealings they contributed to the general good feeling. The most important factors at least those upon which the most stress was laid by traders—were the prospective settlement of the Equitable Life affair, the elimination of friction between conflicting interests in the northwestern railroad situation, and the report from Washington that a compromise bill was being drafted that would meet President Roosevelt's approval for government regulation of the railroads. The Frick committee investigating the Equitable Life will make its report on Monday, and Wall street heard that it would prove satisfactory to the general public and policyholders. It was also reported on good authority that a conference had been held on Tuesday of representatives of Union Pacific and Northern Securities, and that an announcement might be expected before the close of the week.

The only factors that might be construed as unfavorable were the serious situation in Chicago growing out of the labor troubles and the revival of rampant speculation in grain. May wheat advanced to 81 6/8 and closed near the top, strengthening the July and September options. The greatest excitement, however, was in May corn, which advanced from 58 to 67 cents, and closed at 63½. The corner in this cereal is apparently "tighter" than that in May wheat some weeks ago. The effect of the extremely high prices for wheat and cotton last year was to greatly curtail exports and disorganize trade. The speculative situation also had a direct bearing upon financial operations between the United States and foreign countries. For the past few months exports of corn have been increasing, but if artificial prices are maintained the demand from foreign consumers will be curtailed.

The feature of the trading throughout the day was the well sustained advance in that group of stocks which have been under greatest pressure during the period of liquidation. United States Steel preferred rallied to and closed at 94, a net gain of 2½ per cent. Colorado Fuel and Iron closed 2 per cent higher. Tennessee Coal and Iron 3 and American Locomotive common 2½ higher. American Smelting was strong, selling at 111 at the close. The Electric closed 4 per cent higher.

In the railroad list Northern Pacific scored the largest net gain, advancing from 178 to 182¾, and closing at the best. Union Pacific recovered to 120¼ and closed at 120 bid, being an advance of 4¼ for the day. St. Paul closed 3⅝ per cent higher, Atchison 2 per cent and Southern Pacific 2⅜. The entire Pennsylvania group was strong, Erie closing 3 per cent higher, Reading 2⅜, Baltimore & Ohio 2 and Pennsylvania 1⅜ per cent. The smallest gains were in the tractions, although Brooklyn Rapid Transit made a good rally at the close. There was no change in the money market, call loans ranging at 2½ to 2½ per cent.

United States Steel common was the most active stock on the Pittsburgh board, 1,200 shares changing hands at prices ranging from 26¾ to 26¾, and the market advancing to 27 bid at the close. The preferred was inactive, but closed at a net advance of 1⅝ per cent. Westinghouse Electric, which led the market on Tuesday, relapsed into dullness yesterday, only 300 shares changing hands, but the stock advanced to and closed at 81¼, a net gain of 1⅜ points. Crucible Steel common remained nominally unchanged, but the preferred advanced a dollar a share to 92. The strongest stock on the list was Luster Mining, which advanced to 20¼, the highest ever quoted on the present capitalization, and closed at 19 bid, 20 asked. Pittsburgh Coal issues were dull but strong. The common advanced to and closed at 18½ bid, and the preferred after selling at 76¼, advanced to 76⅞ bid at the close. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas was heavy, declining a dollar a share to 59, and closing at 57 bid, 59 asked. There were no transactions in the other natural gas stocks. National Fire Proofing common and Independent Brewing preferred closed a fraction lower.

SUBSTANTIAL RALLY OCCURS IN STOCKS

Activity Is Confined to Limited Number of Issues—Bears Chief Buyers.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 25.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says:

Stocks underwent a very substantial rally yesterday, closing at best prices of the day, which reflected net recoveries of from a fraction to 3 and 4 points. The volume of business was upon about the scale of recent days, and activity was confined to rather a limited number of issues, in which professional operators for the short account have recently been active. There was, in fact, little if any change in the character of the trading, except that certain professional operators discovered certain stocks were heavily oversold. The chief buying in the market was that of bear traders, who were after to cover as a result of an aggressive buying movement originating with a strong bull clique.

Very little developed in the way of news bearing upon the general situation. Crop reports were somewhat less favorable and corn, wheat and cotton were advanced sharply. The movement in the staples, however, responded less to news than to speculative manouvers. In driving the shorts to cover the chief factor was the reported re-establishment of harmonious relations between the Harriman-Hill interests in the northwest. Information that a basis for peace has been at last reached was widely circulated in the street, and many surprising rumors were circulated in connection with the report. Friends of the two interests stated that while there were strained relations here had been no war. The basis for the present report appears the agreement of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company and the Northern Pacific Company to construct jointly a short line in Washington.

United States Steel advanced sharply with the general list, influenced by the general short covering in the market. A leading trade authority on the iron and steel industry issued a less pessimistic report on trade conditions than in recent weeks, but still noted a softening of prices in finished products and hesitancy in buying.

Another Case of Spotted Fever.

Charles Schultz of Irwin street was taken to the Municipal hospital yesterday suffering from cerebro-spinal meningitis. This makes five persons now at the Municipal hospital.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.	IN WALL STREET.
Stock market less active, but the tone was strong and prices higher.	Traders suddenly shift over to the bull side of the market.
Lustre sold at 20¼, the highest ever quoted on the present capitalization.	Prices strong from start to finish, closing higher all around.
Westinghouse Electric rallied to and closed at 81¼.	Sales included 916,400 shares stock and $2,315,000 bonds.
Steel stocks were fairly active and closed firm and higher.	Copper, Steels and Electrics led the advance in the industrials.
Pittsburgh Coal common closed at 18½ and the preferred at 76⅞ bid.	In the railroad department the high-class stocks led the rally.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

For the first time in more than a week some of the prominent Wall street commission houses were yesterday advising the purchase of the better class of stocks on moderate recessions. A few days ago they were advising sales on any rallies, and some of them went so far as to express the opinion that the market had turned into a long downward sweep. Sentiment changes very quickly in the stock market, and it always runs to extremes. The basis for the change yesterday was largely rumor, and after the advance got well under way, the buying was in large blocks and mainly by prominent professional traders. It is not to be expected that genuine investors will follow any further considerable rise in values, but the continued ease in money, the normal trade conditions, and the favorable outlook will all tend to have a steadying effect, and on declines stocks will be bought by persons who acquire the same for the return on the investment, rather than for a quick turn in the market.

The trading offered a number of remarkable features. One was the small volume of the demand upon which the very notable gains were effected. The day's transactions fell below those of either Tuesday or the day before. If the buying was for the account of uncovered shorts it was decidedly free from any sign of urgency, or such trepidation as the bear trader of short stocks usually manifests. There was not at any time a vigorous show of resistance to the advance. There was rather free selling during the first hour, owing to the wide advances at which prices opened. This was well absorbed and the slow upward movement which followed was allowed to pursue its course without any active opposition from any quarter. Prices have made so many false starts toward recovery that sentiment has become extremely suspicious of these sudden advances over night which have melted away during the day in more than one instance lately. The same suspicious attitude was maintained by the professional element yesterday. At different stages of the advance the market sank into practical stagnation, but the ground yielded on such occasions was insignificant.

The extreme ease of the money market on the eve of today's $60,000,000 requirement for the final instalment of the Japanese loan subscription was a governing influence on the strength of stocks. The reception of the Iron Age's weekly trade review was in marked contrast to the depression caused a week ago although that authority's view of the trade has not altered in any material respect. "Prices are weaker," said the review, "and buyers are holding off confident that a somewhat lower level in pig iron will be reached." The United States Steel stocks, however, moved upwards with the rest of the market, and the rush amongst belated buyers made the closing tone very buoyant.

The Electrics scored the largest net gains in the more prominent industrials in New York. General Electric closed 4 per cent higher at 175, and Westinghouse Electric closed 4¼ per cent higher at 162, the latter equivalent to $81 a share. In Pittsburgh the price reached 81¼ and closed at 81 bid. It is said that the bulk of the stock delivered yesterday on the heavy selling of Tuesday was New York certificates. In some quarters the impression prevails that there is a considerable short interest in this stock, but this opinion is not generally entertained.

Pittsburgh Coal preferred closed at 76⅞ bid in Pittsburgh, and at 76½ bid in New York. In the latter market the common opened at 17, and jumped to 18½, but sales were light.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges yesterday were $3,300,000 larger than for the same day last year.

The announcement of the suspension of the Canton State bank, with $500,000 deposits, passed unnoticed in stock market circles.

There were no sales of Westinghouse Air Brake, but the stock closed firmer at 142 bid. No stock was offered. New York Air Brake advanced 7 per cent to 149.

Tonopah Extension sold to the extent of 1,000 shares at $5.05. Darr, Lake & Moore were the buyers, and Carothers & Co. and Marlin were sellers.

May corn touched 67 cents in Chicago yesterday, representing an advance of 23⅛ cents from the low price of the year, which was touched on the 6th of last January.

Early in the session Hooker sold a block of 500 shares United States Steel at 26½ to Carothers & Co.

Calumet and Hecla directors yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of $10 a share. For the previous quarter $10 regular and $5 extra was declared.

Gross earnings of the Wabash for the third week in May decreased $15,891.

Jacob Field, who sold 15,000 shares Union Pacific during the morning, was a large buyer late in the day.

London cabled the opinion that liquidation for the time being is at an end, and that there is reason to believe that Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and the Erie issues will be bought by foreign houses to a considerable extent.

A prominent Wall street house affiliated with Union Pacific interests made this statement at the close of the market: "We expect to hear of an announcement favorable to the Northwestern situation within the next few hours."

A dividend of 1 per cent has been declared on Rochester Railway and Light preferred stock, payable June 1, as registered May 28.

American Sugar Refining Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1% per cent on the preferred stock, and 1% per cent on the common. The dividends are payable July 3.

Diamond Match Company directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent, payable June 15.

Directors of the Railway Steel Spring Company have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable June 20. Books close June 9 and reopen June 21.

Net income of Jersey Central for April was $341,172, an increase of $34,456.

So far as can now be determined Pennsylvania's earnings for April will show a moderate gain on those for the corresponding month last year, probably bringing up the gross for the lines east of Pittsburgh up to the $10,000,000 mark for the first time in more than a year and a half. Indications are that May will also reach that high level and perhaps go quite a little beyond.

The late advance in Union Pacific was largely due to a mistake by a broker who had an order to buy 2,000 shares. He sold, making him short 4,000 shares. The room discovered his dilemma and bid it up.

Messrs. Graham & Co., bankers, of Philadelphia, are offering a limited amount of the $1,500,000 Washington, Alexandria & Mt. Vernon Railway first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds, due 1955, interest payable March 1 and September 1, at a price of 102¼ and accrued interest. These bonds are secured by a first mortgage on this electric system operating from the center of Washington through Alexandria to Mt. Vernon. This road has been in successful operation for about 10 years, and the earnings have steadily and substantially advanced year by year. The population of Washington is about 350,000 and Alexandria, 16,000. The charter and franchises are favorable and practically perpetual.

Standard Investment Bonds.

The Colonial Trust Company, No. 317 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., has for sale a variety of bonds yielding the purchaser from 3½ to 6 per cent, which it recommends as desirable investments. Inquire of Alexander C. Thompson, manager bond department.

WATERMELONS GROW COMMON IN MARKETS

Carload of Big Ones Arrive and Prices Get Down Towards the Summer Figures.

Watermelons become common in the local market yesterday, a carload having come in from southern Florida. A lot of canteloupes arrived at the same time from the same point. The price of melons immediately dropped. They were selling at 50 and 60 cents for watermelons, and the "loops," as they are called along the street, go at $3 and $3 50 a crate. The new watermelons are big, handsome ones, of the "Jersey" variety, and are said to be of fine flavor.

The general tone of prices in the green goods line is a little lower than it was a week ago. The frosts which have been experienced for the past week are not believed to have accomplished as much damage as was feared, and will not have any material effect on local prices. Home-grown green stuff is expected in the market in another week or two, and prices will continue to drop until they reach the summer schedule.

Flour remained firm yesterday, uncertainty of what was likely to happen in the wheat market leaving dealers somewhat in doubt. Sugar is also firm, and coffee is on as sure a foundation, apparently, as ever.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts of hay and grain yesterday were as follows: Pennsylvania lines—37 cars hay, 19 cars oats, 12 cars corn, 5 cars feed. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie—3 cars hay. Baltimore & Ohio—4 cars hay, 4 cars oats, 2 cars corn.

While the western markets are cornered on grain, it is impossible to sell grain at lay down cost. An active demand for this commodity and for hay is noted here. A further advance in prices is not impossible. Straw is still in lively demand.

CORN MAKES JUMP OF 9 1-4 CENTS

Scarcity of Offerings Is Principal Reason for the Sharp Upturn—Wheat Strong.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, May 24.—Notwithstanding a sensational bulge of 9¼c a bushel today in the price of corn for May delivery, interest in 'change centered as usual in the wheat pit, trading in corn being restricted by lack of offerings. Influenced by additional reports of damage to the wheat crop in the northwest, the wheat market was strong, closing with a net gain of 2@2¼c. July corn is also up 2@2½c. Oats show a gain of ½c. Provisions are practically unchanged.

Following higher prices at Liverpool, the wheat market here opened firm, initial quotations on July being up ¼c to ¼c, at 90c to 90¼c. In addition to the advance in foreign grain markets, sentiment in the pit was affected by a continuation of unfavorable weather conditions in the northwest, rain being reported in many localities. Weather in the southwest, however, was entirely favorable to the bears, clear skies and a rise in temperature being precisely the conditions needed by the fall-sown crop. The excellent weather throughout the winter wheat belt and a lack of any definite damage reports inspired considerable confidence in shorts, who sold quite freely during the early part of the session. As a result the tone of the market was decidedly nervous during the first two hours. After selling at 90¼@90½c, soon after the opening, July declined to 89¾c. Sentiment, however, gradually became more consistently bullish as fresh reports of damage to the spring wheat crop were received. Sharp advances at Minneapolis and Duluth gave emphasis to the crop damage advices. While news from the southwest was conflicting, the preponderance of reports still claimed considerable damage in that section. The sensational bulge in May corn was another factor that contributed materially to late strength in wheat. A few minutes before the close, July wheat touched the highest point of the session, sales being made at 90¾@90¾c. The market closed practically at the top, final quotations on July being at 90¾@90⅝c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 33,700 bushels. Primary receipts were 230,400 bushels, as compared with 195,100 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 158 cars against 96 cars last week, and 129 cars a year ago.

A sensational jump of 9¼c in the price of May corn furnished fresh evidence of the congested condition of the market for that delivery. The bulge was still as obdurate as ever in their disinclination to part with any great amount of their holdings, and scarcity of offerings was the principal reason for the sharp upturn. During the early part of the session the market was comparatively quiet. A moderate demand from shorts forced the price of May up from 58½c, the opening figure, to 61c. Toward the middle of the day, the demand became extremely active, resulting in a quick advance to 65 cents. Buying then subsided temporarily, and the price reacted a trifle. Within the last few minutes of trading, a revival of the aggressive demand from shorts caused the price to jump to 67c. The close was at 66½c. In sympathy with the strength of May, distant deliveries were strong. July opened ¼c to ⅜c higher, at 48⅝c to 48¾c, sold up to 49¾c, and closed at 49¼@49⅝c. Local receipts were 102 cars, with 52 of contract grade.

Sentiment in the oats pit was bullish as a result of the strength of other grain. Sales of large quantities of cash oats for shipment to Buffalo helped to create bullish sentiment. Shorts were active buyers. July opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 29¾c, to 30c, sold up to 30⅝c, and closed at 30⅝c. Local receipts were 75 cars.

Provisions were quiet and steady. The advance in corn had apparently no effect. At the close July pork was up 2½c at $12 60. Lard and ribs were each unchanged at $7 30 and $7 25@7 27½, respectively.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, nine cars; corn, 247 cars; oats, 72 cars; hogs, 30,000 head.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

A dispatch from Laramie says: Within the past two days a vein of lead carrying 80 ounces of silver and a vein of zinc, believed to be very high grade, has been discovered east of the city, in the Laramie mountains. Miners today broke through the wall of the Strong mine, in the same mountain, revealing a large body of high-grade copper, the extent of which is almost beyond belief. A reduction plant will be erected at once for the treatment of ores, some of which gives assay returns of $8 50 to the ton.

An Idaho Springs dispatch says: Negotiations are pending between the owners of the Lotus group in Russell gulch and the Newhouse Tunnel Company, having for its object the driving ahead of the tunnel breast 600 feet to intersect the Peck lode, it being claimed by the owners to be the principal ore body of the group. All of the details in regard to the matter that can be attended to at this end of the line have been completed and the papers and matter have been referred to the tunnel projectors in the Denver and Salt Lake City. The Lotus group consists of 27 patented claims and is owned by Sternberger Brothers of Philadelphia, but the property has been idle for some years, owing to the vast amount of water and expense entailed in its removal. The group adjoins the Saratoga property on the north, and so far as developed gives evidence of fully an equal amount of high average value.

A modern plant of 50 tons daily capacity has been installed on the property of the Hamlet Mining Company at Idaho Springs. It will go into operation June 1.

Goldfield advices report a big strike on one of the claims of the Combination mines.

Fred G. Shaffer, a mine operator of Denver, has purchased through the firm of Elliott & Baldwell the Mystic shrine group of mining claims at Bingham, Utah, and has placed L. J. Morser in charge of the property. The group includes 50 claims and 157 acres. The acquisition will become part of the holdings of the Intermountain Mining and Industrial association, an organization which Mr. Shaffer is forming with a capital stock of $1,000,000, and which has holdings in Bingham, Goldfield and Bullfrog, Nev.

The Butte people now visiting the east say that the Minnie Healy mine, which cost Heinze more than $1,000,000 in defense of his title against the Amalgamated attacks, is proving the most phenomenal development of recent date in Butte. On the eleventh level the vein has expanded to 150 feet, averaging 4¾ to 5 per cent copper and two ounces of silver. On the twelfth level it is opening richer than on the eleventh. Before Heinze left Butte he ordered air compressing machinery to run 100 more drills; at present the United Copper Company is operating in all its mines about 150 drills.

BOSTON, May 24.—The market today showed a distinct rally all through the list. Good buying was in evidence and this together with the short covering advanced prices from two to four points. There were very few copper stocks offered, especially Osceola, Mohawk and Range. The close was strong and at practically top prices, but we still advise purchases only when the market is weak, as we expect a traders' market for the time being, with frequent fluctuations of two or three points.

PARALYTIC GETS A BIG VERDICT

Juries Are More Liberal in Awarding Damages for Personal Injuries.

NOLL PROS IN SPROUL CASE

Big verdicts seem to be getting popular with juries of late, two for personal injuries aggregating $18,000 having been rendered in the United States courts yesterday. In the case of Frank E. Balnum against the American Bridge Company the jury, although out less than an hour, and instructed by the judge not to let their prejudices run away with their judgments, brought in a verdict for the plaintiff of $10,000. Balnum was represented by Attorneys Charles A. Poth and Ward Donsall. While working on a bridge at Brunots Island he had his back injured by falling from a stairway, sustaining permanent injuries. His lower limbs were paralyzed. His attorneys contended that the accident was due to his having been ordered to perform a service beyond his physical capabilities, he being a minor. He is now an inmate of the Home for Incurable in Lawrenceville.

The second verdict was a sealed one found on Tuesay in the case of Hunter Smith against the American Tin Plate Company. Smith received $7,500. He was injured at the Monessen plant a year ago.

A nol prosse was allowed in criminal court in the case in which Theophlus Sproul was charged with embezzlement by George S. Davidson, president of the Meadville & Cambridge Springs Street Railway Company. Sproul was charged with pledging for a private debt gold bonds of the railway company valued at $5,000, which had been given to him as trustee.

Reverses Decision of Justice.

The argument list was taken up in criminal court, in the case of County Detective Joseph Kohen, who had been fined for disorderly conduct by Justice C. B. Richards of East McKeesport, the decision of the justice was reversed. Detective Kohen, with another member of the county detective force, had been on a slot machine raiding expedition. At East McKeesport a friend of one of the machine owners interfered with their work and Detective Kohen asked one, Joseph T. Phew, the name of the offender. Phew refused and alleged Kohen cursed him, whereupon he sued him for disorderly conduct before Justice Richards. A fine was imposed, although Kohen was not present at the hearing and an appeal was taken. Judge Shafer, in reversing Justice Richards, said he should know better than to fine a man when he was not present.

In the appeal of Detective Frederick J. Lamp of McKeesport, who was convicted of aggravated assault and battery on Policeman Frank J. Hoop of the same city, a new trial was granted. Detective Lamp, however, pleaded guilty at once to a charge of assault and battery, but was not sentenced.

By the will of Anna Margaret Gardner, stocks, mortgages, life insurance, money in bank, household goods, etc., are left to Elizabeth Howard Gardner, a farm in Ashtabula county, O., to John Sample Gardner, her home at 915 North avenue, Wilkinsburg, to Harry Black Gardner. The residue of the estate is to be divided into six parts, two going to Elizabeth Gardner, one to Maggie Lee Gardner Bazlett, one to John Sample Gardner, one to Harry Block Gardner and one to the children of her deceased son, William.

Verdict Against a Minister.

A verdict of $1,000 was found against the Rev. Bosiljko Bekavac, pastor of the Allegheny Croatian church, in the suit for slander brought by Samuel Grbin. The plaintiff had made collections for the church and alleged that the pastor accused him of not turning in all the collections.

James McGough filed a bill in equity against his wife, Annie McGough, asking that a deed covering a piece of property on Jane street, be declared null and void. McGough claims that after numerous disputes with his wife they agreed to separate and arranged with attorneys for a division of the property. He avers that he was to deed the property to his wife for a consideration of $1,000 to be paid when the deed was conveyed and $500 more when the mortgage against the property was paid.

McGough alleges that he cannot read nor write and supposed the papers drawn by his wife's attorneys contained the agreement, but found that after he had signed that he had deeded the property to his wife without any consideration.

The South Side Trust Company was appointed receiver for the C. J. Fischer Company, bottlers of cider and charged waters. The action was taken on a bill of complaint filed by the American Fruit Product Company, of Rochester, N. Y., with the consent of the C. J. Fischer Company, in order to prevent the business from being sacrificed to meet the demands of creditors. The liabilities are given as between $4,000 and $5,000, while the plant is valued at $15,100.

Wants the Court to Settle.

The Central District Printing and Telegraph Company filed a petition asking that the dispute between it and the borough of Braddock be settled. The court directed a citation issue against the borough to make answer by June 1. The dispute arises over the ordinance passed placing a license fee of $1 on all polls and $2 50 on each mile of wire. The telephone company claims the charge is excessive as the borough does not make any inspection of either poles or wires and that 50 cents a pole is a reasonable tax. The borough is trying to enforce the collection of $642 alleged to be due.

John Prascovk, a Braddock saloon keeper, has been sued for $2,000 damages by Joseph Gayarnics. The plaintiff alleges that while he was trying to act as peace maker in Prascak's saloon the bar tender beat him and threw him out. Attorney Joseph M. Friedman represents the plaintiff.

Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings have been commenced against the Jutte & Foley Company. Charles Cramer files a claim for salary as president and general manager and the Valley Supply Company and Somer, Fitler & Todd for materials. The claims amount to $926 12.

Executions issued: S. Scheutzer vs. M. B. Isinginger, $350; Frederick L. Bretholle and Harry Bretholle vs. Austin L. Graham, $247 80; same vs. E. Hepplewhite, $120 60; Duluth-Superior Milling Company vs. W. J. Edwards, $4,600.

AT THE THEATERS.

In Three Houses There Will Be Excellent Springtime Amusement During the Next Week.

The sale of seats for the engagement of "Checkers" at the Nixon theater for two weeks commencing next Monday evening, will open this morning at the box office. The production will be with the same large company seen during last and this season. Thomas W. Ross plays the title role, Katherine Mulkins the part of Dot, Dave Braham, Jr., the part of the race track tout, "Push" Miller, and Charles Willard the part of "Uncle Jerry."

The character of the title role in the charming pastoral play, "Sis Hopkins," in which Miss Rose Melville will appear next week at the Bijou, is one of the most charming and lovable types of old stage girls seen in the last 20 years. The character is that of a simple country girl of Posey county, Ind., who knows nothing of the world or the people in it. Her life has been spent on the farm and she lives the simple, every day existence of the honest people of the countryside.

Joseph Sheehan, who just closed his engagement with the Savage English opera company, with which organization he was the principal tenor, will be a headliner at the Grand opera house next week. As a musical attraction this noted singer will no doubt be a decided acquisition to the vaudeville ranks. Others will be Bud Snyder, the celebrated sensational cyclist; Dixon, Bowers and Dixon, the eccentric comedians, and Young and DeVoie, in their artistic dancing specialty.

"Mr. Him and I" has caught on at the Duquesne. This is the third week in Pittsburgh and still the theater is crowded at every performance. The fact is that Bickel, Watson and Wrothe are very clever and funny and all Pittsburgh is laughing at them.

Change of Time on West Penn Division of Pennsylvania Railroad, Taking Effect on May 28, 1905.

Trains 401, 435, 405, 404, 436 and 403, at present running to and from Federal street station, Allegheny, will arrive and depart from Union station, Pittsburgh, on new time table.

The "Buffalo Special."

New fast train Pittsburgh to Buffalo via Pennsylvania railroad, beginning May 28, leaving Pittsburgh daily 1:10 p. m. Standard coaches and Pullman parlor car. Cafe car Corry Junction to Buffalo. Returning, "Duquesne Special" will leave Buffalo 1:10 p. m. daily, with coaches and parlor car; cafe car from Emlenton to Pittsburgh.

A savings account may be opened at any time with one dollar or more at the Peoples Savings Bank, Fourth Avenue and Wood Street. Four per cent compound interest is paid.

Come and see us at 1518-20 Penn avenue. Open on Saturday, May 27th. Max Klein & Sons, wholesale liquors.

A WINNER

"P. B. Co. Special" is a winner from the start. Why shouldn't it be? It is a choice, light beer, delicate in flavor, brewed by the latest and most scientific process and from the best malt and imported hops—brewed and bottled under such circumstances that perfect purity is assured.

You can put this beer on your table and offer it to your family or friends, feeling that it is a product in which you may have the most implicit confidence.

Remember, that it is bottled in the brewery, not shipped around in barrels and bottled by some agent. We want you to try

The Equitable Surplus

has increased during the last twenty years in almost exact proportion to the liabilities of the society—

For instance:

In 1884 the ratio of surplus to total liabilities was 21.99 per cent—

In 1894 it was 24.38 per cent—

In 1904 it was 24.25 per cent—

Every man who is familiar with finance knows that the ratio of surplus to liabilities is the measure of financial strength.
